

ON THE VOLGA, between Nijni-Novgorod and Kazan—(Continued.)—Then, after a talk with the Metropolitan of the Nijni District, at last a hasty glimpse of the fair. There we found ourselves the chief exhibit. In Moscow we had been gratified to note how little attention we attracted. If we were curiosities, the people were at least too metropolitan and sophisticated to show it. But not here, in the far interior of Russia. There were crowds to stare at us everywhere, and in the great contract room of the fair, where merchants from all the Eastern world sat two by two at tables negotiating sales, all business stopped as we entered the gallery. Surely there is no other room in the world where a mere foreigner should be less of a curiosity. Half the men in the room were foreigners, from all the picturesque caravan routes of the storied East. But we, of the unknown West, were stared at as unheard-of curiosities, until we left. Every educated person at the fair, we judged from later conversations, knew a great deal about America and was intensely interested in it. But none of them had ever seen a native of that fabulous land.

THE fair itself turned out to be less picturesque than we had anticipated. It was too much of big business and too little of small peasant groups of peddling local wares. A small fair would have been more of a picture. It was, however, an interesting glimpse of almost the only private business tolerated on a large scale in Russia. Even the embargo on private imports from abroad is lifted, as to Eastern nations, for the term of the fair. Western peoples must still deal through the government, and were not represented. This world looks Eastward, on the interior of Asia.

BUT the hospitality still pursued us. Dinner was ready at the Russian hour of four o'clock. On the table was another array of the same wands we had had for breakfast. They were good, and we felt to with a will. Then we discovered that they were the mere preliminary hors d'oeuvre of the real meal. Next came huge bowls of soup, each with a whole fish boiled in it. Then a chicken with rice; then a huge fish cutlet; and, to top off, whole fresh cucumbers and ice cream. The dinner began at four o'clock and ended just in time to catch the seven o'clock boat.

AND then sunset on the Volga, the most startlingly beautiful river scene any of us had ever witnessed. I have sailed many of the great rivers of the world, in America, Asia and Africa, but never saw a display of so brilliant color like this. If any future traveler should catch his glimpse of orange, crimson and scarlet, he simply would not be believed.

THE Volga is a beautiful stream, but if you travel on it, bring your bedding. We did not. The ship managed to dig up a few sheets and thin cotton coverlets, but we slept, first-class passengers, on thin leather cushions on a hard board bench, with our clothes and overcoats on. It was cold and uncomfortable, and everybody anticipated a sleepless night. Instead, everybody slept well, and we are a cheerful, rested party this morning.

LATE tonight we reach the Tartar city of Kazan, last outpost of Asia in Europe. Then a typically American hurry-up trip, five nights on the train across Russia and Europe, to keep a speaking engagement in Geneva. Why does one make engagements, any way, to speak on a definite date, to a well-groomed audience, in a clean, scrubbed city, on a prosaic Western subject—when here in dateless Russia there is the whole Volga before him, clear down to the Caspian sea, all to be seen for the mere staying on a boat and shivering without blankets for a few nights.

WANT Grain of Truth
"We have pursued the policy of listening to everybody, with the hope they could bring to us a grain of truth concerning the various attacks that have been made on us. We hoped that the right person involved in the Carmel matter would come forward."

WAS Wiseman, self-confessed perpetrator of the "Miss X" hoax in the McPherson investigation, told her story today to District Attorney Keyes.

At present, it was learned, Keyes feels that, unless Ormiston is located, it will be useless to resume the probe. Ormiston is the former radio operator at Angelus temple, who occupied a cottage at Carmel, May 19-25, with a woman said to resemble Mrs. McPherson.

W. A. Ogden, 35, is in the county jail on charge of assault with a deadly weapon. According to Ogden's story, Freeman has been attempting to become friendly with his wife. Last night, while he was visiting a friend's house, his son, William, 11, came to him and told him Freeman was at his home. Ogden said he hurried home and found Freeman leaving the house.

Only one shot took effect and that pierced Freeman's chest.

$3,000 PLOT ALLEGED IN MISS X CASE

Mrs. McPherson Accuses Self-Styled Perpetrator Of Carmel Cottage Hoax

LISTEN TO EVERYBODY

Policy Pursued By Head Of Angelus Temple Leads Her Into Trap, She Says

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—Aimee Semple McPherson, in a formal statement today, accused Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman, self-asserted perpetrator of the "Miss X" Carmel Hoax, of attempting to "blackmail" her for $3,000.

Mrs. Wiseman, following her arrest last week on charges of circulating fictitious checks, charged she was paid by Mrs. McPherson to produce a "Miss X," who was to pose as the companion of Kenneth G. Ormiston, at Carmel, and "induct" the evangelist.

Mrs. McPherson's statement was the latest development today in the public wrangle over the Carmel episode of her mysterious six weeks' absence from Angelus temple.

"After Mrs. Wiseman's arrest on bad check charges, we received purported messages and a written note asking us to send $3,000 in a few minutes," said the McPherson statement.

"This messenger came and telephoned several times with the final words, which we took to be a blackmail threat, that 'unless we did, it would probably be disastrous for us within a few hours.'"

Mrs. McPherson said her attorney, Roland Rich Woolley, forbade her to communicate with Mrs. Wiseman at that time and convinced her it was a "trap," and it "would be better to let her spring all the fire she could right now than to get hold of a hot stick of blackmail."

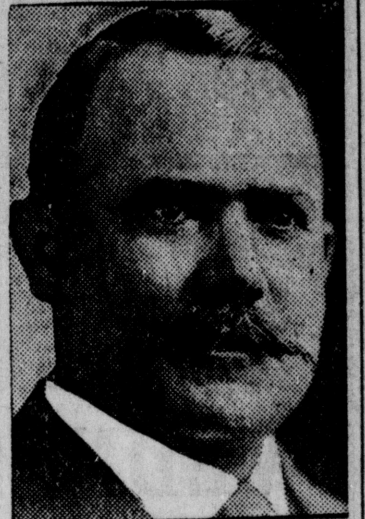

The evangelist declared that Mrs. Wiseman's story had deceived her at first.

"She seemed so sincere and persistent, and came to us so frequently at all hours, and seemed so earnestly desirous of righting a great wrong with her stories of Carmel that we felt she should be given an opportunity to verify her statements."

"We have pursued the policy of listening to everybody, with the hope they could bring to us a grain of truth concerning the various attacks that have been made on us. We hoped that the right person involved in the Carmel matter would come forward."

Mrs. Wiseman, self-confessed perpetrator of the "Miss X" hoax in the McPherson investigation, told her story today to District Attorney Keyes.

ALVARO OBREGON

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 14.—Friends of former President Obregon, of Mexico, said today that he had been kidnapped by Yaqui Indians, after a three-hour battle near Lencho, Sonora, where 1000 Indians were said to have attacked the former president's train. Obregon is said to have escaped or to have been released and his friends believe he has reached his home between Cajame and Guaymas.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 14.—The state supreme court today gave Mell Gore, harbor bandit, a new lease on life, just a few hours before he was to be electrocuted.

Almost simultaneously with issuance of legal papers, setting October 6 as the date for action on an injunction against the execution, Gore broke down and admitted that the murder confession Sunday, Ad-Ruby Ray, flapper accomplice in the murder of W. H. Cheek, Atlanta grocer, was false.

Gore was babbling incoherent verses of the Bible as his attorneys won their legal victory and induced the governor's office to wire the Milledgeville penitentiary a halt, pending development of the injunction proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Two hurricanes in the West Indies area, one now north of Cuba and one northeast of Saint Christopher Island, both probably will miss the U. S. coast, an advisory storm warning, issued by the weather bureau today, indicated.

One storm, which swept over central Cuba yesterday and apparently was headed for the Carolina coast, has turned due north and is expected to head out to sea.

The other, now northeast of Saint Kitts and headed west-northwest, probably will pass north of Porto Rico and then follow the path of the first storm into the Atlantic.

SONORA, Calif., Sept. 14.—Official investigation of the death of Harry Mahoney, whose skeleton was found in the mountains back of here, last June, was ended today, following the report of the Toulumne county grand jury that evidence had failed to disclose that a crime had been committed.

Mahoney disappeared while on a hunting trip. After many months of searching, his body was found in a snow bank.

The coroner's jury, which investigated the youth's death, returned a verdict of accidental death, but his parents believed their son was victim of foul play and the case was taken before the grand jury here.

Crack Train Is Wrecked Deliberately

(By United Press)

McGehee, Ark., Sept. 14.—The Missouri Pacific crack "Sunshine Special," which was derailed here early today, was deliberately wrecked, investigation by railroad officials showed this afternoon.

George Busby, engineer, was killed, H. J. Mundel, fireman, was seriously injured. Scores of passengers were badly shaken up in the accident.

Bloodhounds were brought here this afternoon to trail the wreckers, after tools were found near the place where spikes had been pulled out and rail fastenings moved in order to wreck the train.

Nine coaches left the rails and the engine and baggage car were overturned.

NAB COWBOY WANTED IN KILLING CASE

Albert Gaines, Alias Dewey, Arrested in Great Falls, Mont., Sheriff is Advised

WAS RIDING FREIGHT

Priest Awaiting Trial In Court Here States He Is Confident of Vindication

ALBERT GAINES, alias Abe Dewey, Utah cowboy, wanted here in connection with the murder of J. J. Patterson, Los Angeles bond broker, whose mutilated body was found in Santa Ana canyon on March 22, last, and for whose murder the Rev. Philip A. Goodwin, alleged priest in the American Catholic church, was returned here from New York City, was arrested last night in Great Falls, Mont., by Sheriff Sam Jernigan was informed today in a wire from the Montana officer.

Gaines was arrested while riding as a tramp on a freight train, it was said, and under examination, admitted that he was Gaines and that he was an ex-convict, having served a term in San Quentin prison, according to word received here.

Sheriff Jernigan announced today that Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff, would leave here this afternoon for Great Falls to return the prisoner to Orange county for trial.

Complaint Charges Murder
A wanted charging murder has been on file here for several months and was issued at the same time a like complaint was made against Goodwin.

The capture of Gaines is regarded as a feather in the cap of Sheriff Jernigan, who has worked incessantly in locating the man whom local officials believe will be able to clear up several of the mysteries in the Patterson case. Jernigan combated Colorado and Utah for the man and, learning that he was traveling with a woman at one time, later had the woman watched in several states. She now is in New Orleans, it was said.

Later receiving a tip that Gaines was in Montana, Sheriff Jernigan sent out a number of special delivery letters to sheriffs of the various counties in that state.

Gaines' capture is believed to have been the direct result of a letter written to Norton.

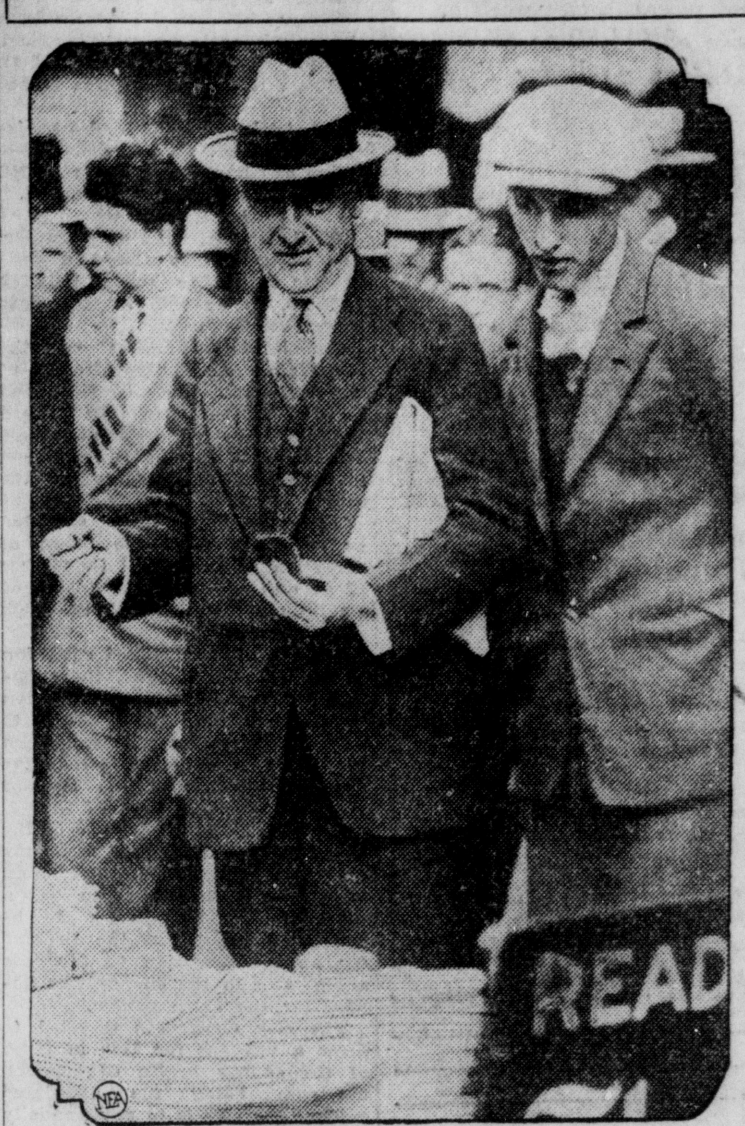

When interviewed today in his cell, regarding the capture of Gaines and the change, if any, it would make in his case, Goodwin said:

"The report that Dewey or Gaines has been arrested is, of course, both interesting and surprising. Naturally, the attitude he takes regarding the Patterson murder is that he knows nothing about it."

Goodwin had been told that Gaines had pleaded ignorance of the Patterson murder. Goodwin is in the county jail awaiting trial in superior court here.

"I feel that with the apprehension of Dewey we now will be able to get to the bottom of this affair and, by so doing, I feel confident of vindication," Goodwin said.

MAINE G. O. P. ATTORNEYS AT VICTORIOUS IN FRAUD TRIAL IN STATE VOTING SHARP CLASHES

Brewster Runs Up Lead of 20,000 Over McLean For Governor

(By United Press)
PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 14.—A complete Republican victory was indicated today by returns from Monday's state election.

Gov. Ralph O. Brewster, Republican, seeking re-election, had a lead of more than 20,000 votes over Ernest L. McLean, Democrat, this morning, when approximately three-quarters of the state had been heard from.

The vote stood: Brewster, Republican, 98,593; McLean, Democrat, 77,739. Brewster's majority, 20,854.

Indications were that Brewster would at least maintain this lead on receipt of the missing returns.

The four Republican candidates for re-election to congress also won comparatively easy victories. These were Congressman Carroll L. Bedy, John E. Nelson, Wallace H. White and Ira G. Hershey. They defeated Richard E. Herson, Edward Chase, Charles M. Starbird and Frank A. Peabody, respectively.

Maine did not elect a U. S. senator. A special election will be held in the year to choose a senator to complete the unexpired term of the late Senator Bert M. Fernald.

Sheriff Jernigan said that Gaines had waived extradition to Santa Ana and that it would take about eight days for McClellan to make the trip to Great Falls, take charge of the prisoner and return here.

LOSSES MAY REACH 5,000 IN WANHSIEN

British Forces Bombard Cith and Release White Officers Held by Natives

COMMANDER IS SLAIN

Port Side of Warship Is Painted Red With Blood of Dead Oriental Troops

(By United Press)
LONDON, Sept. 14.—Amplified reports of the fighting at Wahhsien, China, in which a British boarding party released white officers of vessels seized by Chinese troops, indicates that the battle was a most sanguinary conflict.

General Yangsen's losses were placed at between 3,000 and 5,000 killed, mostly by the British bombardment of the city. The port side of the British auxiliary cruiser, Hiawo, which participated in the boarding expedition, was reported virtually to have been repainted with the blood of Yangsen's Chinese.

When the British tossed grappling hooks aboard one of the captured steamers, the Chinese soldiers aboard fired a one-pounder gun, whose shells were timed to explode five feet from the muzzle.

The British commander of the boarding party was killed, according to the reports, as he jumped aboard the deck of one of the steamers. His body was mutilated with knives, whereupon the British sailors were reported to have refused quarter to the 400 soldiers aboard one steamer and then proceeded to the other, nearby.

The imprisoned mercantile marine officers reached the deck and jumped from the deck of the Hiawo. One missed and fell into the water, where a Chinese shot him. Another also missed, but swam to a French gunboat.

FOONCK READY FOR FLIGHT TO PARIS

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Rene Fonck will hop off from Roosevelt field, Long Island, at dawn tomorrow, if weather permits, on 3,600-mile non-stop flight from New York to Paris, he announced this afternoon, at luncheon given in honor of the Fonck party here.

Substitution of Lt. L. W. Curtin, U. S. N., for Lt. Allen Snoddy, U. S. N., as navigator and relief pilot of the plane, also was announced.

Curtin was an understudy of the late Com. John Rodgers and participated in planning the attempted flight from San Francisco to Hawaii to last year.

Democratic Tax Idea Not Favored

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., Sept. 14.—The Democratic plan for a $560,000 tax reduction at the next session of congress would be impossible without completely rearranging the financial set up of the treasury, the presidential spokesman said today. The alleged surplus, he added, is only theoretical and the government has just been forced to borrow $350,000,000 to meet obligations maturing tomorrow. If taxes were further reduced, the government would have to borrow more money, it was said.

WILL LAY PIPE LINE

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 14.—Construction work on a 35-mile gas pipe line from Rose station to the Monolith Cement company will start soon, officials of the Midway Gas company announced today. The line will cost approximately $300,000.

WHAT COUNCIL DID

10-ACRE TRACT AVAILABLE FOR LEASE AS PARK

A 10-acre tract on McFadden street, near the Southern Pacific tracks, is available for lease as a park site at $2000 a year for 10 years. It was revealed at the council meeting last night in a letter written to City Attorney Z. B. West Jr. by J. B. Wine, the owner.

The tract is set to walnuts. According to Wine's statement, the grove has been producing $3500 to $3700 annually and the owner volunteered the information that as a public spirited citizen he was willing to give to the city the difference between the income from the ranch and the rental asked. The proposal carries an offer of an option, but the option price is not stated.

Cal Adrian was granted permission to install an additional 550-gallon gasoline tank at his place of business, 321 West Fifth street.

To Attend Meet
W. S. Decker, building inspector, was authorized to attend a convention of Pacific coast building officials, to be held in San Jose September 20 to 23.

Complaint was made of the appearance of a car parking lot at the southeast corner of Rose and Fourth streets and Councilmen Chapman, Goode and Purinton were named as a committee to make investigation and report at the next meeting.

The council members accepted an invitation from the board of education to be present September 15 at ceremonies in dedication of Andrews gymnasium, at the high school.

Because of the depleted condition of the advertising fund, the council denied a request for contribution of $50 to a fund being raised to send the Santa Ana fife and drum corps to Des Moines to attend the national meeting of the Spanish War veterans. A fund of $400 is being raised and all but $50 of the sum had been subscribed when the request was made. Each member of the council subscribed $5, a total of $25, leaving $25 to be raised. A request by the air club for an appropriation of $100 for a big meet in the county was denied for the same reason.

The city clerk was directed to draw a warrant for $300 in favor of the county health department, the sum being the stipulated amount the city is to pay annually for the department's operation of the city's health department.

Plans Are Ordered
Plans and specifications were ordered drawn for a five-inch concrete pavement on Wright street, First to Fourth. Owners of 67.3 per cent of the frontage of the street signed a petition for the improvement. The same procedure was directed for paving Occidental street, Main to Maple.

Street lights were ordered in on Artesia, at First and Pine streets. Approval was given the assessment diagram for installation of the ornamental lighting system on East Fourth street.

Santa Ana post, No. 131, American Legion, was given exclusive control of concessions here for Armistice day, with Jules W. Markel, commander, and G. K. Scovel, immediate past commander, to have direct charge.

Location for Skating Rink Sought

Is there a location within a reasonable distance from the business center of the city in which a skating rink can be operated without becoming a nuisance to residents of the immediate neighborhood?

J. M. Barlowe, owner of the rink at Newport Beach and the city council were confronted with this question, following Barlowe's application to the council, last night, for permission to operate the amusement place. It is housed in a tent and tents are forbidden within fire district No. 1.

George McPhee, police commissioner, was appointed a committee to whom Barlowe might report when he finds a location and McPhee is to report to the council next Monday night for approval or disapproval of the site selected.

PAVEMENT TO BE BROKEN FOR GAS LATERAL

Just because a land owner refused to pay $10 to have a gas lateral run to his lot at 1436 North Baker street, when that street was being paved a few months ago, the fine new pavement now must be "punctured" to permit connection by the public utility.

The lot since has changed to the ownership of Allison Honer and the new purchaser has made an application for gas service, according to report made at the meeting last night by the city council.

Members of the council pointed out that they had no alternative but to grant the gas company permission to cut the pavement in order to install the line. Regrets were expressed that there is not some law by which property owners may be forced to make connections at the time a pavement is laid. Comment was heard that if this could be done there would be no occasion for cutting concrete work after it is laid on streets.

In pavement installations in the last two or three years, it has been the policy of the council and the Southern Counties Gas company to run the service line from the main gas line to the property line where ever owners could be induced to put in the lateral and few refused to do this. The gas company makes a collection of $10 for the installation and the money is refunded in service if connection is made within three years.

"The Southern Counties Gas company is not permitted to establish its rate on unproductive property and the company therefore cannot take care of the costs of installations that may be out of service for a few years," Fred Merker, of the public utility, declared today.

"Every effort is made to get owners of vacant property to take care of the charge when paving is being done. We send registered letters always to out-of-town residents owning such property and, in addition, personal calls frequently are made by representatives of the company. Many vacant lots are on streets paved in the southwest district recently and we secured deposits from all but three or four owners—and when service is demanded for these we will have to cut the pavement."

Police News

Pete Adams, 40, charged with being drunk, who was arrested Saturday night, was fined $40 in police court yesterday.

J. Cabrillos, of El Toro, charged with drunkenness, was fined $25 when he was brought into court yesterday in answer to the charge.

Two men, found wandering around in the vicinity of Eighth street and Fairlawn avenue, yesterday afternoon, were arrested by city officers and are in the county jail facing drunk charges. They are J. Jurado, 40, and Juan Signoria, 32. Officers Jaynes, Howard and Bond made the arrests.

Charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Charles P. Robinson, 22, 502 West Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton, was arrested late yesterday in Buena Park by Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff. He is being held in the county jail, pending an arraignment in Santa Ana justice court.

Lemon Juice Whitens Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Adv.

FRUIT STREET PAVING IS SEEN AS POSSIBILITY

Under consideration for many years by various city councils, paving of Fruit street today seemed possible in the immediate future, following action of the city council, last night, in instructing City Engineer Nat H. Neff to proceed with plans for paving that thoroughfare from Garfield street to Grand avenue.

Widening of that portion lying between the Santa Fe spur track crossing the street and Grand avenue has been the puzzle. As discussed last night, plans will provide for paving a 38-foot street in this section, with condemnation proceedings to be started to acquire title to 10 feet on each side of the street. The street now is 40 feet wide and it is proposed to widen it to 60.

The city now has title to the additional width on some pieces of frontage and effort will be made to get deeds from owners who have given the necessary land. Failing to get the additional property by gift, the council will institute condemnation proceedings.

The county warehouse, located at the Santa Fe tracks and Fruit street, and some other buildings will have to be moved to provide for the widening, it is understood. The section lying between Garfield and the railroad tracks is 80 feet wide and paving will be 50 feet between curbs. It was the opinion of council members that the 26-foot paving will be sufficient to carry traffic that will develop on the street for many years to come.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT
Do not question the reality of your touch with God simply because it seems less intimate and satisfying than what you think others enjoy.

The Father does not expect you to "make-believe," but He does trust you to draw near to Him as wholeheartedly as you can.
You will be surprised to discover the depths of your faith and dependence upon Him.

OBITUARY

Cynthia S. Cooper passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs.
A. P. Humphrey, 515 Cypress avenue, Saturday at 9 p. m.

She was born at Lamertine,
Greenlake county, Wis., April 18,
1840. She married Samuel S.
Cooper, at Marquette, Wis., in 1877.
Two years later, they came to Santa Ana, where Mrs. Cooper had lived for the last 36 years.

They devoted many years to ranching in the city limits of Santa Ana.

Mr. Cooper passed away about 16 years ago.
Mrs. Cooper had been an invalid for six years, and had been confined to her bed for six months.
During all her illness, she resided with her only daughter.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. A. P. Humphrey; two granddaughters, Anamae and Dorothy Humphrey, and two brothers,
Wesley Smith, of Lomita, Calif.,
Dr. E. E. Smith, of Ashland, Ore.
Her youngest brother, Freeman
Smith, of Appomattox, Va., died recently.

Local Briefs

A special meeting of the board of directors of the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held Wednesday noon, in Ketter's cafe, to consider an important item of business which requires immediate action, according to President Mason Youd. A number of Santa Ana business men have been invited to meet with the directors.

A Mother's educational center which has been meeting every Wednesday morning at Spurgeon school, will now meet there on Wednesday afternoons from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Alice Curtis, well known domestic science expert, is attracting a large attendance of Santa Ana women to her cooking demonstration now in progress at McCune Furniture company's store. The demonstration will end tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Maxine Wilson, employed as stenographer at the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, is confined to her home with an attack of influenza.

Excellent publicity for Orange county, particularly for Newport Beach and Balboa, has been obtained by the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce through the publication in the New York Times rotogravure section of a number of pictures of the recent regatta held at the beach cities. About a score of Orange county pictures recently were printed in a California pictorial magazine, according to Secretary Harry Welch. A copy of the magazine was sent to every first class hotel in the United States by the California All-Year club, Welch added.

Those who are applicants for second papers in American citizenship will be interested to know that a class is being offered this year which will be completed in December when examinations will be given. The first class will be held on Thursday evening, September 23, at 7 o'clock at the Frances Willard junior high school at Ninth and Main streets. The classes will be in charge of L. R. McMullen, history teacher at the Santa Ana high school.

The steak dinner tonight at the county park by the Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist church is not exclusively for men, it was announced today. Women who wish to be present will be welcome, it was stated. Dinner is scheduled for 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Roger Winans, missionary to Peru, South America, will speak at the Church of the Nazarene, corner of Parton and Fifth streets, on Thursday evening at 7:30. Mrs.
Winans will tell of her thrilling experiences in the far interior of Peru, among native tribes where white people had almost never gone before. She, in company with her husband, and a few natives, crossed over the Andes mountains from the west and descended some distance down the range to native Indian tribes, who had never heard of the Christian religion before, and too in the face of great personal dangers in traveling the lone trails of the high mountains, and also from fierce natives.

President Milton R. Parmelee, of the Michigan association of Southern California, announces that their mammoth annual fall picnic reunion will be held all day Saturday, September 18, in Sycamore grove park, Los Angeles. The association is now in its twenty-sixth year and invites all who ever lived in Michigan to join in the jolly reunion.

F. E. Jackson has taken the management of the fountain at Schroeder's Pharmacy, Fourth and Birch streets. Jackson comes here from Anaheim, but is well-known locally through having been company cook for Company F, National Guard, at the Del Monte encampments the last two years.

Orange county scored additional triumphs at the California State fair Saturday when the judges of award, upon recommendation of the board of directors, amplified its award of a blue ribbon and $75, made for that county's novelty display, to one of a silver cup and $100 in money. Among the many novel displays this year, Orange county's contribution stands out conspicuously.

Attention is called to a program to be held in the First Methodist Episcopal church, Wednesday, September 15, at 2:30 p. m., the occasion being the annual mite box opening of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society. There will be music interspersed by some of Santa Ana's favorite artists. There also will be a mite box demonstration by a number of real live, walking, talking, mite boxes. Light refreshments will be served at the close of the program.

Listed among guests at St.
Ann's Inn are Miss Ella C. Gugg

OFFICIAL VOTE COUNT SHOWS 12 OUT OF 21 JUSTICES AND CONSTABLES AGAIN IN OFFICE

Incumbents were uniformly successful in defending their entrenched positions in the township contests for justice of the peace and constable offices throughout Orange county, official returns from the primary election revealed today.

As a result of the primary vote, 12 incumbents were successful in defending their positions in 10 townships, 12 incumbents are assured of holding their positions for another term, while one more has a chance to clinch his post at the November election, having led his field at the primary. Five incumbents did not seek re-election. Three, who did campaign for their places, were elected by opponents.

In the contests between "ins" and "outs," the score stood nine to three in favor of the "ins." Four other "ins" were unopposed. The score includes the one incumbent who led his field at the primary but did not receive the majority vote that would have elected him.
Three contests remain to be settled at the November election, two in Orange and one in Fullerton.

Eight new official faces will be seen in office after January 1, as a result of the primary. They are Chris P. Pann, elected justice of the peace of Huntington Beach township; Ben B. Brown, justice of the peace, Seal Beach township; Halsey B. Spence, justice of the peace, Fullerton township; C. C.
Cravath, justice of the peace, Laguna Beach township; Frank Vaughn, constable, Newport Beach township; G. C. Cravath, famous home run king of the major leagues before the Ruth regime, defeated the incumbent, Justice L. V. Murphy, in Laguna Beach. In the same township both incumbents were upset, Arthur Stromerson beating Constable G. W. Jubb in the race for that office. State Traffic Officer
Frank Vaughn won over David Adams in the contest for the constable vacancy, left by J. S. Welsh in Newport Beach township. The places vacated by Constable A. F.
Langford, in Orange township, and Charles H. Young, in Fullerton township, were not filled at the primary, the field of four candidates in each township being narrowed to two for the November "run off."

Among the successful incumbents, Justice Kenneth E. Morris-son, of Santa Ana township, defeated four opponents, while Constables Jesse L. Elliott and Joseph Ryan were unopposed; Justice
Charles Kuchel beat one opponent in Anaheim township, while Constable E. D. Marion was defeating three; Constable Julius A. Hammer Jr., of Seal Beach township, defeated two rivals; Justice Henry E. Hart, of Brea township, was elected over one opponent, the same thing happening to Constable W. D.
Tremaine, of that township; Justice Andrew H. Wilson, of Newport Beach township, defeated one opponent. In San Juan township there were no contests, Justice Jack Landell and Constable W. J. Calles being re-elected without opposition.

Orange township was the only one in the county which failed to settle any contest at the primary. The offices of both justice of the peace and constable will be contested for in the November "run off." The only other contest in November will be for the office of constable in Fullerton township.

Following is the vote, complete:
Santa Ana Township
Justice of the peace—Morrison
4992; Cain 1624; Metzgar 1244; Pinkerton 793; Innes, 204. Morrison elected.
Constable (vote for two)—Elliott
6091; Ryan 4726.

Huntington Beach
Justice of the peace—Pann 734;
Stewart 647; scattering 2. Pann
elected.
Constable—Bergey 1042; Hallley
414. Bergey elected.

Anaheim Township
Justice of the peace—Kuchel 1308;
Mathias 1236; F. A. Smith 5. Kuchel
elected.
Constable—Marion 1953; Heffner
916; Choate 653; Pautz 7. Marion elected.

SUCCESS OF ORANGE COUNTY FAIR IS SHOWN IN REPORT OF ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT

All bills paid, all but $6000 of the $19,000 put into permanent improvements paid and a small balance into the treasury for next year—that was the substance of a financial report made to the directors of the Orange County Fair association yesterday afternoon by President Harry Lake, of Garden Grove, and it was the most successful fair financial report in the long history of the annual Orange county event.

Last year the fair was held for eight days, with a total attendance of 46,000 persons. This year the fair was held but six days and was attended by 75,000, the report showed.

The following statement was made by President Lake:

"An early checking up of the finances of Orange county's first fair, of the new and greater series, indicates that considerable gain has been made and that with over $14,000 as the after-the-fair value of the permanent improvements, which have been installed, the fair held this year has returned a small balance with all bills paid.

"Nearly $19,000 was invested in improvements for the people of Orange county and, in equipping a fair grounds that could be used by the people for all time. These improvements mean that for the fair next year there will be a great reduction in the cost of installation and for every year thereafter.

"The board of directors has laid out a plan for development of one of the best fair plants in the state, not a plant that will be a large one, but one that will be complete and economical to operate and maintain.

"Fencing, plumbing, water system, dining hall, stalls, bleachers, coops, corrals, pens, booths and other materials, which are needed for future fairs, all are included in this year's cost of operation.

"In order to bring the fair home to more and more people of the county, the directors, at a brief meeting, held yesterday, planned a new membership campaign to make the fair the 'people's fair' and one in which the people of the county will have a greater hand in conducting.

"Each member receives a personal pass. Ten dollars a year is the small fee to entitle one to membership in the organization and there should be great rivalry in the several sections of the county in securing quotas for the first thousand. All membership fees are devoted to permanent improvements and it is planned that, by the time the fair opens next year, the grounds and equipment shall be complete in every way.

"The records this year show that over 75,000 persons saw the fair and the directors want to show a record next year of a visitor for every individual in the total population of Orange county, or about 100,000 to 125,000 for the 1927 Orange County Greater fair."

Santa Anans Bag Four-Point Buck

Walter Wrigley and son, Grover Wrigley, returned to Santa Ana yesterday after a successful five-day deer hunt in the mountains near Red Bluff, Calif., during which they bagged a four-point buck. The deer was left in cold storage in Bakersfield, as Orange county's deer season is not as yet open and to bring the deer home would have been a violation of the law.

Court Notes

To Probate Will
May Z. Wickliffe, of Coachella, has filed a petition in superior court to probate the will of her deceased mother, Rosa E. Gearhart, who died in Fallon, Nev., September 4.

The Gearhart estate, valued at approximately $13,000, was left in equal shares to four children, Arthur Gearhart, of Fallon; May Wickliffe, of Coachella; Bertha Bottolfsen, of Hartington, Neb.; and Lura B. Wells, of Santa Ana. The estate consists of property in Orange and Los Angeles, cash and notes.

To Quiet Title
Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Skelley are plaintiffs in a superior court suit on file against C. H. White and others, to quiet title to property in Huntington Beach. A. J. Thedieck, of Huntington Beach, is counsel for the Skelleys.

Seek to Foreclose
The First National bank, of Los Angeles, has instituted legal proceedings in superior court against the Security Trust and Savings bank, Los Angeles, as executor of the estate of the late John McInnes, of Orange, and against the widow, Mrs. Minnie McInnes, to foreclose a chattel mortgage against the McInnes orange packing houses. The suit seeks, also, to secure judgment against the estate and Mrs. McInnes for $8158. The action is based upon notes.

$2080 Judgment Asked
Judgment for $2080, alleged to be due on an automobile purchase contract, was asked today in a suit filed in superior court by the Anaheim National bank against W. H. Cooke, Cooke, it is said, purchased the car from W. O. Lusk, who subsequently assigned his contract to the bank. Attorneys T. L. McFadden and George F. Holden represent the bank.

To Foreclose Mortgage
Adolph Thomas, of Anaheim, has a suit on file in superior court against Hugh Grant, Charles A. Boege and others to reform a mortgage covering oil property in Huntington Beach and to foreclose the mortgage to satisfy notes aggregating $41,000. The complaint on file states that, through a mistake when the mortgage was drawn, the word "trustees" was inserted instead of the name "Adolph Thomas." Attorneys Harvey and Harvey, Santa Ana, represent Thomas.

SHERIFF HUNTS PIGEONS: BAGS HUGE RATTLER

Are there any set rules as to what a rattlesnake will do?

Sheriff Sam Jernigan was dove hunting on the Moulton ranch, in the southern part of the county, yesterday afternoon. While sitting on a small embankment, awaiting the approach of several birds, he suddenly heard a "swish" in the bushes near him.

He turned and shot, more from instinct than anything else. After the smoke had cleared away and he saw "what it was at about," he was perfectly willing to leave several doves where they had fallen among the rocks nearby and which he expected to pick up later.

A huge rattler lay almost at his feet, its head completely blown off. "Didn't you know that if you sat perfectly quiet that the rattler would have passed you by?" he was asked by an old timer.

"Sure, I know that, but boy, I wasn't taking any chances—not with a rattler," the sheriff answered.

The snake, examined later, was found to have six rattlers and a button. That the rattler had come down the hill toward him after he had parked his machine was learned when Jernigan returned to the machine. He found where the reptile had coiled in the road a few feet in the rear of the machine.

Benefactor Must Be Found Before He Can Get Funds

Having suffered a badly wrenched jaw and other incapacitating injuries, George Graves, 1451 Maple avenue, who was injured in an automobile accident August 23 on the Garden Grove road, one mile west of the Orange County hospital, is seeking to file accident insurance papers.

Only one obstruction lies in his being awarded his insurance. He must know the name of the man who removed his unconscious body from under the overturned automobile and carried it to the hospital.

Therefore Graves is addressing a plea to the man, who is believed to reside in Santa Ana, to notify him immediately, giving his name and address.

According to Graves, he was driving to work Monday morning, August 23, about 7 o'clock. His car skidded and overturned, pinning Graves beneath it. The man whose name is desired, assisted by B. F. Richards, city marshal of Orange, carried Graves to the hospital.

INQUEST TOMORROW IN FARMER'S DEATH

Inquest into the death of J. W. Becker, 60, farmer residing on South Sullivan street, Santa Ana, who was found dead yesterday afternoon in a field, will be held some time tomorrow, in the Winbigler Mission Funeral home, Coroner Charles D. Brown announced today.

Neighbors found Becker lying in a field which was being irrigated. Coroner Brown said that he was under the impression that the man had suffered a stroke and had died in the field without being able to summon aid.

Becker had lived alone. He owned several acres of land.

A daughter of the man is said to live in Portland and efforts are being made today to locate her.

MAN SLIGHTLY HURT AS CAR OVERTURNS

B. E. Jerome, Santa Ana route No. 7, narrowly escaped death or serious injury at 6:20 last night, when the automobile, in which he was riding, overturned, pinning him beneath, at the intersection of Highland avenue and Birch street.

Jerome attempted to dodge a car coming toward him from the opposite direction and drove into a telephone pole, upsetting the machine, according to a report made by the police, who were called to the scene.

Aside from cuts and bruises about the face, Jerome escaped injury. He was taken to the county hospital, but later removed to his home.

Parents Complain School Luncheon Period Too Early

Included among matters to be taken up at tonight's meeting of the Santa Ana board of education is a proposed modification of the luncheon periods, fixed some time ago by the trustees. It was announced today at the board of education rooms.

In this connection it was revealed that a number of complaints have been received from parents of students in the elementary grades, who contend that the luncheon period set for these grades, 11:20 a. m. to 12:20 p. m., is too early.

The luncheon period for the senior and junior high schools has been set from 11:20 a. m. to 12 o'clock noon.

Busy Year Launched For Ebell Folk at Initial Meeting

LAUNCHED upon their new club year, Ebell society members expressed their renewed interest by an excellent attendance at the first business program of the season, held yesterday afternoon at clubhouse and enlivened by an all too short entertainment hour afterwards.

The new ruling put into execution yesterday for the first time, that each member should present her membership card before being admitted to the auditorium, worked smoothly and is expected to be enforced at each succeeding meeting.

The new official board also functioned faultlessly, and the president, Mrs. S. W. Stanley, was welcomed in her second year in that responsible office. Associated directly with her in the year's work will be Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, first vice president; Mrs. Clarence Gustlin, second vice president; Mrs. W. W. Anderson, recording secretary; Miss Louise Tubbs, corresponding secretary; Mrs. N. A. Beals, treasurer; Mrs. Archie V. Herr, curator, and Meedams Oliver Halseil, L. A. Chenoweth, W. H. Harrison, E. B. Sprague, J. H. Metzgar and Miss Lida Crookshank, directors.

Plans for the general club work were outlined by various members including Mrs. E. M. Neelley, who told of a special "vanishing" luncheon plan whereby the club treasury might be pleasingly enriched. One feature of the plan that commended it to the clubwomen, was the fact that the series would be completed in October and then the members might enjoy a recess from money-earning for general club demands, until after the holidays.

A series of Friday morning lectures labeled "Voyages of Discovery" was presented by Mrs. R. H. Grubb, chairman of the house and grounds committee.

With the conclusion of the business program, Mrs. Stanley introduced the entertainers of the afternoon, Mrs. Ella Dodge, past president of the Alhambra Woman's club and of the Round Table club of Los Angeles, and noted for her interpretative readings and pianologues, and Mrs. Marshall Harnois.

Mrs. Dodge opened the program with a little group of uplift poems followed by one of friendship songs to piano accompaniment by Mrs. Marshall. These included "My Wish For You," "Just Be Glad" and "Song of Love," all delivered in lovely singing cadences.

Annie Fellows Johnson's well-known "In the Desert of Waiting" was the serious number of the program and was followed by a group including "The Lamp Lighter," by R. L. S. also given as pianologues.

Mrs. Marshall then rendered three piano numbers including a Chopin Scherzo and a Schubert composition, all played with excellent expression and technique. Mrs. Dodge concluded the program with humorous selections, the pianologue "Fishing" and "A Lesson in Cooking."

The courtesy committee of which Mrs. Stanley W. Nau is president, then served tea in the peacock room and club members enjoyed an interval of friendly greetings and renewals of friendship.

KNEPPER NEAR MARK SET BY BOBBY JONES

BALTUSROL COUNTRY CLUB, SHORT HILLS, N. J., Sept. 14.—Rudy Knipper, of Sioux City, missed a two-foot putt on the 15th green today and thus failed by one stroke to better Bobby Jones' mark of 70 for the difficult Baltusrol course in the qualifying round of the National Amateur championship.

Knipper's 70 gave him a total of 147 and made him a certain qualifier.

Bobby Jones started off today as though he meant to better his remarkable score of Monday. He needed only a 71 to break the qualifying record of 142.

The champion reeled off birdies on the first two holes, but hooked his drive into some rough on the third and took three putts after a nice recovery. His par at the short water hole was a lucky one for the ball only cleared the pond by a foot or so.

"Please admit my good friend Senator Harrison to Piccadilly circus."

Golden Wedding Day Is Celebrated at Dinner Party

S TAGING THEIR hospitality in Los Angeles at one of Paulais' private dining-rooms, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harnois, of 311 South Broadway, on Sunday celebrated their golden wedding with a delightful anniversary dinner for nearly half a hundred guests.

With them were their children and grandchildren together with a group of Montana friends who aided them in celebrating the silver anniversary 25 years ago in Montana.

Unusually lovely appointments prevailed at the dinner, the floral nut-cups, hand-decorated candles and other equally attractive effects, having been planned and carried out by Mrs. Marshall Harnois. The golden color scheme was used in the many beautiful flowers which added their charm, one particularly handsome basket being a telegraphed greeting from friends in Butte who were unable to be present.

A pleasant feature of the afternoon was an impromptu program in which the grandchildren took part. Duncan Harnois, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Harnois of this city, gave a number of piano selections with much skill and Master Melvin Harnois, the "baby grandson," just 6 years old, sang a sweet little song.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harnois and Master Melvin came from Wilmington for the event, while the second son, Marshall Harnois and Mrs. Harnois of this city with their young people, Duncan, Creson, Bruce and Miss Charlotte, completed the family group. Miss Charlotte Harnois was a member of the 1926 graduating class of Polytechnic high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Harnois celebrated their wedding anniversary on Sunday in order to have their friends all present, the actual date of the wedding having been on September 11, 1876. They were married in St. Joseph, Mo., and Sunday were showered with handsome gifts in honor of the anniversary.

Dancing Teacher Attends Convention

Her duties as vice president of the California Association of Teachers of Dancing, called Marcel Rockwell of the Rockwell School of Dancing, into Los Angeles yesterday to take part in the annual convention which was to have its first program today and continue until September 17.

The various features will take place at the Biltmore and will attract prominent dancers and teachers from all over the state.

Dances to be exemplified and taught during the session will include Valencia and New York dances by Ernest Ryan; ballet, by Miss Florence Gaylor; "Daffodil and Nodding Daisies," Miss Norma Gould; "Valse Lyette," French gavotte, Helen Peddicord; musical comedy, Madame Prager; step dancing, Eleanor Putnam; collegiate tango and specialty, Mabel Rockwell; firefly, Elisa Ryan; plus four and fox trot, G. R. Puckett; folk dances, Martin Trieb and classical dance, Zillah Withrow.

Mrs. Rockwell is a member of the Business and Professional Women's club of this city, and one of her smaller classes is made up of a group of club members who make the weekly lesson an occasion for a merry social evening.

TEMPLES TOLD OF IN BIBLE FOUND

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—Important confirmation of Biblical statements regarding the town of Bethshan (the modern Beisan), under the Philistines, has been observed by the Palestine expedition of the University Museum, Philadelphia. Alan Rowe, field director of the expedition in Palestine, has now completed the examination of material found during the 1925 excavating season and has identified the two temples of the Philistines mentioned in the First Book of Chronicles, 7, 10, in one of which the armour of Saul was placed, and in the other his head. Much other archaeological information has also been obtained.

Popular Local Artist Will Resume Classes in Pianoforte

It was with a marked sense of satisfaction that Santa Ana musicians and music lovers learned that Clarence A. Gustlin, well-known artist and master of pianoforte of this city, would again take his place among the teachers after two years on the concert stage and travels in the interests of the National Music Federation.

Mr. Gustlin's ability as a teacher is quite as well-known among his fellow citizens as is his art of playing and composing, and former pupils will be happy to learn that he will again maintain his residence studio at 316 North Main street.

Two days each week, Monday and Thursday, will be given to Los Angeles pupils at his studio in the Southern California Music company building in that city. The remainder of the time will be devoted to classes and musical pursuits in his home city.

Mr. Gustlin's success in furthering the interests of American composers is well known. His own peculiar manner of presenting their work took the form of his famous "Interpretations" which he has given with signal success clear across the continent.

In the near future, Ebell clubwomen of Santa Ana will have the opportunity to hear one of these interpret recitals when Mr. Gustlin will appear on an Ebell program, heading the list of celebrities to be presented from time to time during the club year.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Ladies' Guild of the Church of the Messiah will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the social rooms of the church. In addition to the usual matters of business, the members will complete their plans for a cooked food sale to be held Saturday at the D. L. Anderson grocery, 115 East Fourth street, beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Aid society members of the First Christian church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the community house. The occasion will be the first important business meeting of the new church year and is expected to call out a good attendance.

Ebell Garden Section members will hold a meeting of special interest in the clubhouse Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock and all members are urged to be present.

The Sixth Household Economics section of Ebell society will meet with Mrs. W. D. Baker at her summer home near Modjeska's for a 12:30 o'clock luncheon Friday, September 17. Members are reminded to prepare their topics for roll call. Those having no transportation and those having extra room in their cars are asked to call 560-W not later than Wednesday evening.

A most charming party has been planned by members of the Tustin Pythian Sisters. It is "a back to school party" and will be held Thursday evening, 8 o'clock, in the Tustin K. P. hall. The committee in charge of arrangements includes Mrs. Beulah Deaver, Mrs. Edna Squires and Mrs. Mabel Henry.

Santa Ana Parlor No. 235, Native Daughters of the Golden West, will have a cooked food sale next Saturday at Blauer's grocery, 208 West Fourth street. The committee in charge has secured many goodies to dispose of to the public for Sunday dinner or picnic lunch.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The Girls Friendly society members of the Church of the Messiah assembled last night in the parish hall for their first meeting of the year. Plans for several interesting sessions in the near future were made. It was announced that the next event would be held at the home of Dr. Mabel V. Tremaine who is an associate in the society.

On October 11 members of the society will hold a mothers' night when a program connected with various phases of the Girls Friendly society will be presented.

Miss Jean Battersby, assisted by Miss Kate Benton served delicious refreshments.

Miss Beryl Busby of This City Weds in Santa Barbara

EDDED last Saturday evening in Santa Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt are now touring the Southland in an enjoyable motor trip which will continue for two weeks ere their return to the northern city to establish their home.

Mrs. Hunt was Miss Beryl Busby, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Busby of this city where Mr. Busby is manager of Hotel Santa Ana. The wedding was one of the outstanding social events of the week in Santa Barbara and took place at 8 o'clock in Trinity parish house.

If autumn offered the motif for the decorative scheme in the parish hall, charming with the brilliantly tinted flowers of the season and autumnal foliage, the bridal group itself offered a lace motif for gowns of bride and her attendants alike, were of that exquisite material.

Miss Busby, led to the bridal altar by her father, Earl Busby, was lovely in pure white Chantilly lace and georgette with tulle veil falling from a chaplet of orange blossoms. She carried bride roses showered with lilies of the valley and was attended by her sister, Miss Dorothy Busby of this city, as honor maid.

Miss Busby's frock was of deep cream Chantilly, the pattern standing out charmingly against the tulle picture hat and a sheaf of pink gladioli completed her costume. A group of college friends of the bride, the Misses Frances Lincoln, Aileen Tognazzini and De Ette Conklin as bridesmaids, were costumed in lace worn over pastel-tinted slips, each in a different color and each carrying gladioli to harmonize.

Mr. Hunt was assisted by his brother, Leroy Hunt of Santa Barbara as best man, while ushers were from Los Angeles and were all classmates, Messrs. Thomas Condit, Thomas Clark and Leland Prentice.

Following the ceremony conducted by the rector of Trinity, the Rev. Charles E. Deuel, the young Mr. and Mrs. Hunt and their relatives and closer friends, assembled for a wedding supper at El Encanto hotel, the young people making their adieu early to depart on their southern honeymoon.

Mr. Hunt made quite a name for himself in athletics at Stanford where he was a member of the 1926 graduating class and played on the Varsity football squad. His bride likewise was a member of the graduating class and also of the Alpha Phi sorority.

Mr. Hunt is the son of Mrs. W. L. Hunt of Santa Barbara, and during the recent famous Fiesta week in Santa Barbara, the latter was hostess to her son's fiancée who was complimented by a series of delightful events in her former home. Mr. and Mrs. Busby and their daughters left Santa Ana for Santa Barbara last Wednesday in order to be there for the final pre-nuptial function honoring the approaching wedding, a formal affair sponsored on Thursday night by Miss Frances Lincoln, one of the members of the bridal party.

Original Work Offers Entertainment To Quill Pen Club

RIGINAL poems and stories, clever in plot and well developed, offered entertainment to Quill Pen folk last night when they assembled at the home of Mrs. J. F. Adams, 415 South Birch street, for their semi-monthly meeting.

In conducting the roll call, Mrs. Joseph Vau called forth many excellent synonyms for "said" to be used in story writing, and the resourceful members brought out other interesting thoughts in the discussion which followed.

Mrs. Frank Was, a particularly versatile member, read a charming poem on the sea, inspiration for which was obtained during her summer at Laguna Beach in the Was cottage. Mrs. N. E. Wells had written an entertaining child's story named "Puppykins" which her daughter, Miss Verna Wells, read with understanding. It was a story to delight children and to offer entertainment to grown-ups by its whimsicality. The program hour was concluded by the reading of a ghost story whose author, Mrs. Adams, had completed it only that afternoon. The atmosphere of the tale was particularly blood-curdling and the characters, while strange folk, ridden by a peculiar obsession, were truly flesh and blood people. Mrs. Adams is particularly happy in her character development, and her gift for writing was illustrated in the tale.

Constructive criticisms of the three features were read after which Mrs. Adams, assisted by her husband's mother, Mrs. Adams, and Mrs. Herman Reuter, served refreshing fruit punch, lady fingers and wafers.

There were four guests to enjoy the evening, Mrs. Adams, Mr. Elizabeth Lawson of Indiana, a guest of Mrs. Vau, Mrs. Eleanor Elliott and Mrs. Marshall Harnois. Members present included Mrs. Joseph Vau, president; Miss Verna Wells, Mrs. R. A. Cushman, Mrs. Frank Was, Mrs. Herman Reuter, Mrs. Harry M. Smith, Mrs. N. E. Wells, Mrs. Blanche Brown and the hostess, Mrs. Adams.

OPENING OF S. A. RANGE OF MOUNTAINS AS PLAYGROUND IS SUBJECT OF FOUR TALKS

Development and opening of the Santa Ana range of mountains, as a playground at the back door of Orange county, was the subject of four interesting talks last night, at the meeting of the junior division of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, at a downtown cafe. The speakers were J. B. Stephenson, of Corona, U. S. forest ranger; T. E. Stephenson, J. L. McBride, county superintendent of highways, and N. T. Edwards, a member of the state highway commission.

Ranger Stephenson said the forest service intends to expend $10,000 appropriated by the government and $10,000 provided by the county to match the same, in constructing the better class of trails and firebreaks and where possible the trails will be routed by spots suitable for camping sites.

From the top of Santiago peak, 50 Southern California cities may easily be made out at night from the glow of the electric lights, and if one knew exactly where the cities were located, probably 75 could be pointed out, said the ranger.

Seek to Clear Title
The forest service, he added, is endeavoring to clear up title to certain land in Trabuco canyon, now involved in litigation, and convert a portion of the land into a public camp grounds.

Stephenson spoke of the advantages of the Verdugo potter, 1400 acres, some of it in Riverside county, as an Orange county park. The section is covered with live oak, is not far from San Juan Capistrano Hot Springs, and could easily be made accessible by means of a mountain road, he pointed out.

The forest ranger touched briefly upon all the trails leading back into the mountains and described their condition and possibilities.

T. E. Stephenson told something of the efforts that had been made to develop the mountain region of the county, which, he asserted, was practically the only part of the county not covered by early Spanish land grants and therefore available in the early days for homesteading purposes.

Edwards Points Out Way
Edwards suggested that, if the junior chamber wanted to foster a movement to secure state or forest service financial aid for one of the roads through the mountains, the first step would be to interest the county supervisors sufficiently in the project to spend considerable money in preliminary work. The next step would be to have the road designated as a federal forestry road and later as a state highway by the California highway commission. He doubted if early action could be effected, as funds are apportioned well ahead.

Superintendent McBride gave some of the reasons why the county had not appropriated more money for the construction of mountain highways. One reason was the need of large expenditures in the valley.

"Every acre of the Santa Ana mountains is worth $100 to the ranchers of the citrus territory tributary and, therefore, the fire hazard is more than just mere idle fancy," McBride said.

However, the time will come when the county will have to spend some money on the mountain roads, McBride said, and when that time comes the utmost care must be exercised in selecting the proper route. He spoke enthusiastically as regards the proposed San Juan Capistrano-Elsinore route as one that might be very advantageously pushed to completion.

Will Hike in Mountains
Later in the evening, the members voted to make a hike into the Santa Ana mountains as one of the organization's spring activities.

The junior chamber men voted to co-operate with the senior division in honoring about a score of naval aviators who will be in Santa Ana September 26, enroute to Clover field, Santa Monica, to participate in the second annual World Flight Commemoration meet. The aviators will be invited to spend the entire day in Santa Ana as the guests of the two divisions of the chamber of commerce and the Santa Ana Air club, it was decided.

M. S. Robinson suggested that the junior chamber well adopt plans for an educational campaign as regards the expenditure of the money on Orange County Harbor, as provided for under the latest bond election call. It was decided that the time was a little too soon to launch actively into the harbor bond campaign, although the sentiment was strong for pushing the campaign with all vigor, once the proper time arrives.

The publicity committee reported that the junior chamber had secured very favorable notice at the 10th annual Orange County fair through the exhibition of riding by Miss Ione Reed, Hollywood motion picture actress. The fair board expressed itself as grateful to the junior chamber for arranging the addition to the regular horse show program, it was said.

R. T. Crum was named chairman of the committee for the next meeting. He will be assisted by Arthur Blanding and L. W. Archer. E. C. Westenkuehler was chairman of the committee in charge of last night's meeting, assisted by Harry Savely, James Anderson and Perry Ballard.

Three Conclude Jail Sentences

Three speeders, all convicted of driving 50 miles an hour or faster and who have served five days in the county jail for their violations, were released from custody early today.

The three were Dean B. Cromwell Jr., son of the track coach of the University of Southern California, who lives in Beverly Hills; Herman L. Brown, Los Angeles, and George H. Creighton, Los Angeles.

"Well, hurry back," sang a jailer as the trio departed.

PRESS HERALDS S. A. BAND AS BEST ON COAST

Heralded by San Diego newspapers as the best band on the Pacific coast, the Santa Ana municipal band departed here at 1:30 p. m. today, in two Motor Transit palace busses, for the southern city, where it will offer the opening program for the San Diego fair, opening at 7:30 tonight.

The band's service is a contribution by the city of Santa Ana to the San Diego fair program and the publicity that will accrue to the city as a result cannot be calculated in dollars and cents. The contribution by the city was made possible by the band fund tax levy, voted here a few months ago.

The musical organization gained a reputation among San Diego residents when it gave a concert program where, in Balboa park, during the Lions convention in that city two years ago.

"Finest band on west coast to play at county fair" reads a flaring double-column headline in one of the San Diego publications. In the same paper the fair management carries a full page ad, in which it makes the band its leading feature. "Listen, folks! The Santa Ana band of 50 pieces will give a free concert at the grandstand Tuesday night at 8 o'clock," says the top feature of the page advertisement.

Selection of the Santa Ana band to start the program for the opening night is quite a compliment, for there are a number of fine marine bands and several other band organizations in the bay city. D. C. Clanton, director, and his aggregation of first class band artists were accompanied to the fair city by Clyde Downing and George Raymer, president and secretary, respectively, of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce; Sam Jernigan, sheriff; J. B. Hunt, manager of the Orange County fair; Mayor Frank L. Purinton, E. B. Collier, Stanley Goode, councilmen; Nat H. Neff, city engineer; Mason Yould, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Horace Fine and A. B. Berry, of The Register staff.

ORANGE MUSICIAN IS ILL IN ENGLAND

Percy Richards, director of music in the Orange schools and prominent throughout the county as a musician, is seriously ill in a hospital in Plymouth, England, according to a cablegram received yesterday, in Orange, by Frank Henderson, principal of the schools there.

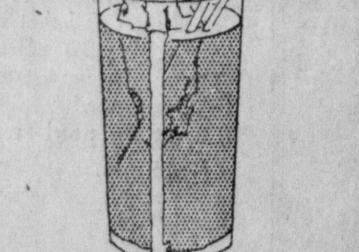

The cablegram merely announced the illness of the music instructor and did not state the illness with which Richards is afflicted. Richards left here for his old home in England immediately following the closing of schools for the summer vacation. He was re-elected to his position for this year and it was expected that he would be here in time to assume his duties. The cablegram explains his failure to arrive.

The wire advised that a letter was to follow, giving full details of the illness. Richards' mother is with him.

Speeder Enters County Bastile

Jim Dodds, 22, bank clerk, living at 600 West Seventy-eighth street, Los Angeles, entered the Orange county jail last night to serve a sentence of five days, imposed on him August 30 by Justice Kenneth Morrison for speeding. Dodds was arrested on August 23, on the Coast boulevard by State Officer Jimmy Cain.

GAIN OF 432 IN ENROLLMENT IS NOTED ON FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

Steady Growth of City's Population Reflected in Increase of Attendance

4933 STUDENTS ARE REGISTERED IN CITY

No Need for Half-Day Sessions or Crowded Class Rooms, Cranston Asserts

Reflecting a steady growth of Santa Ana's population is an increase noted in enrollment figures for the opening day of the Santa Ana city schools, which yesterday registered 4933 pupils against 4501 for the corresponding day of 1925, showing a gain of 432.

The city's 16 schools, two of them having been added to the city school system since the opening day of the 1925-26 year by annexation of the Hawthorne school district, were ready for use yesterday, as the pupils began to fill up the class rooms. Because of the fact that arrangements have been made to provide ample accommodations for each pupil, there was no confusion, and before the bells sounded dismissal in the afternoon, the work in all departments was well under way.

City Supt. J. A. Cranston declared this morning that provisions have been made to take care of a maximum enrollment, hence there will be no need for half-day sessions or crowded class rooms. This condition will not only contribute to the general efficiency of the schools, but enable instructors to give individual attention to such students as may need it, it was explained.

Many New Students

This increase in enrollment, inquiries revealed, is found in an appreciable influx of new students, especially noticeable in the upper grades, beginning with those in the junior high school. Julia C. Lathrop junior high school reported 131 new students, and at the Frances E. Willard junior high there were 76 new students, not previously reported in the city school system.

Just what to predict in way of increased enrollment is not an easy matter, it was stated by various school principals. The belief was held, however, that the aggregate enrollment for the 1926-27 school year will prove a banner one and tax the equipment to the utmost. Vacant houses seem to be filling up, and it is understood from inquiries received at the chamber of commerce, local banks and the post office, that many of the annual crop of out-of-state arrivals are headed this way.

237 in Teaching Corps

The certificated teaching force numbers 237 instructors, many of them holding master's degrees and other university credentials beyond requirements. The Santa Ana teachers, Superintendent Cranston declared, compare favorably in matter of professional preparation, training and experience with those employed in the large cities. Their distribution follows: Junior college and high school, 62; junior high schools, 57; elementary schools and special assignments, 118.

There has been a considerable turnover of teachers since the close of school last June, necessitating the employment of 51 new teachers to fill vacancies. This turnover

S. A. BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB HAS PROGRAM

Plans for future events of interest to Business and Professional Women were discussed yesterday at the weekly meeting of that body of young women at St. Ann's Inn where the September program committee offered its first entertainment of the month.

Young Miss Billie Brucke was introduced and gave two clever readings, "Buff Perkins' Toboggan Slide" and "When the Minister Comes to Tea." Both were given with much expression and excellent interpretation and yielded the club members a great deal of enjoyment.

Royal welcome was extended Miss Jennie Lasby, just returned from a summer in Germany and in her brief response to the greeting of her friends she related various little details of her vacation that delighted them to hear.

Miss Louise Kaiser, club president, presented a plan to have dinner at Belmont Beach club at Long Beach on the night of September 30, in company with the Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton clubs. The suggestion came from Mrs. Helen Harden, county president and former president of the Anaheim club. Decision was made to join in the social get-together of the county clubs.

Miss Ethel Coffman was selected to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. Ruth Ellis, first vice president, who resigned to enter the University of California, Southern Branch. Mrs. George Winters, president of the southern district, will visit the club on Monday, October 4, and interesting plans are being made for her entertainment. She will be guest of honor at the noon luncheon at St. Ann's Inn, and in the evening from 5 to 6, the club will present a tea in her honor.

NIGHT COURSES TO BE OFFERED BY UNIVERSITY

Eight Classes To Be Conducted by Extension Department in Santa Ana

Eight courses, offered by the extension department of the University of California, will be conducted at the Santa Ana junior college beginning September 20, it was announced today by Principal D. K. Hammond.

The classes, held weekly, are open to students and adults. Credit received may be applied toward graduation from the University of California or the study may be taken up for the sole purpose of gaining special information, it was explained.

All the instruction is to be given in the junior college building, located east of the high school campus.

Elementary Spanish will be the first course opened Monday, September 20. Students without any knowledge of Spanish may enter this class, according to Miss Lella Watson, instructor. An advanced course, in which the students will be required to know the rudiments of the language, will be open Tuesday, September 21. Both classes are to meet from 7 to 9 p. m., weekly.

An introduction course to educational measurements, under Whitlock, will begin Tuesday, September 21, meeting from 7 to 9 p. m.

Fine arts education will be taught by Miss Hazel Bemus Tuesday, September 21, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

A class in high school curriculum will meet Wednesday, September 22, from 7 to 9 o'clock, under Lange, one of the instructors sent here by the university extension bureau.

Contemporary poetry, taught by Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, will open Thursday, September 23, from 4 to 5:30 p. m.

A public speaking course, designed for practical speech making, is to be held under Charles A. Marsh, of the University of California, Southern Branch. The class will meet Monday, September 27, from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The last course scheduled is that in the history of philosophy, with E. M. Nealley as instructor. This course will open Thursday, October 7, from 7 to 9 o'clock.

D. K. Hammond to Welcome Pupils

Principal D. K. Hammond will give an address of welcome before the students of the Santa Ana junior college at the assembly, 1:15 tomorrow afternoon, in the college auditorium.

A musical entertainment, arranged by Henrik Van Rensselaer, student body president, is to be given.

The student body officers will be introduced to the students at the assembly, Van Rensselaer said.

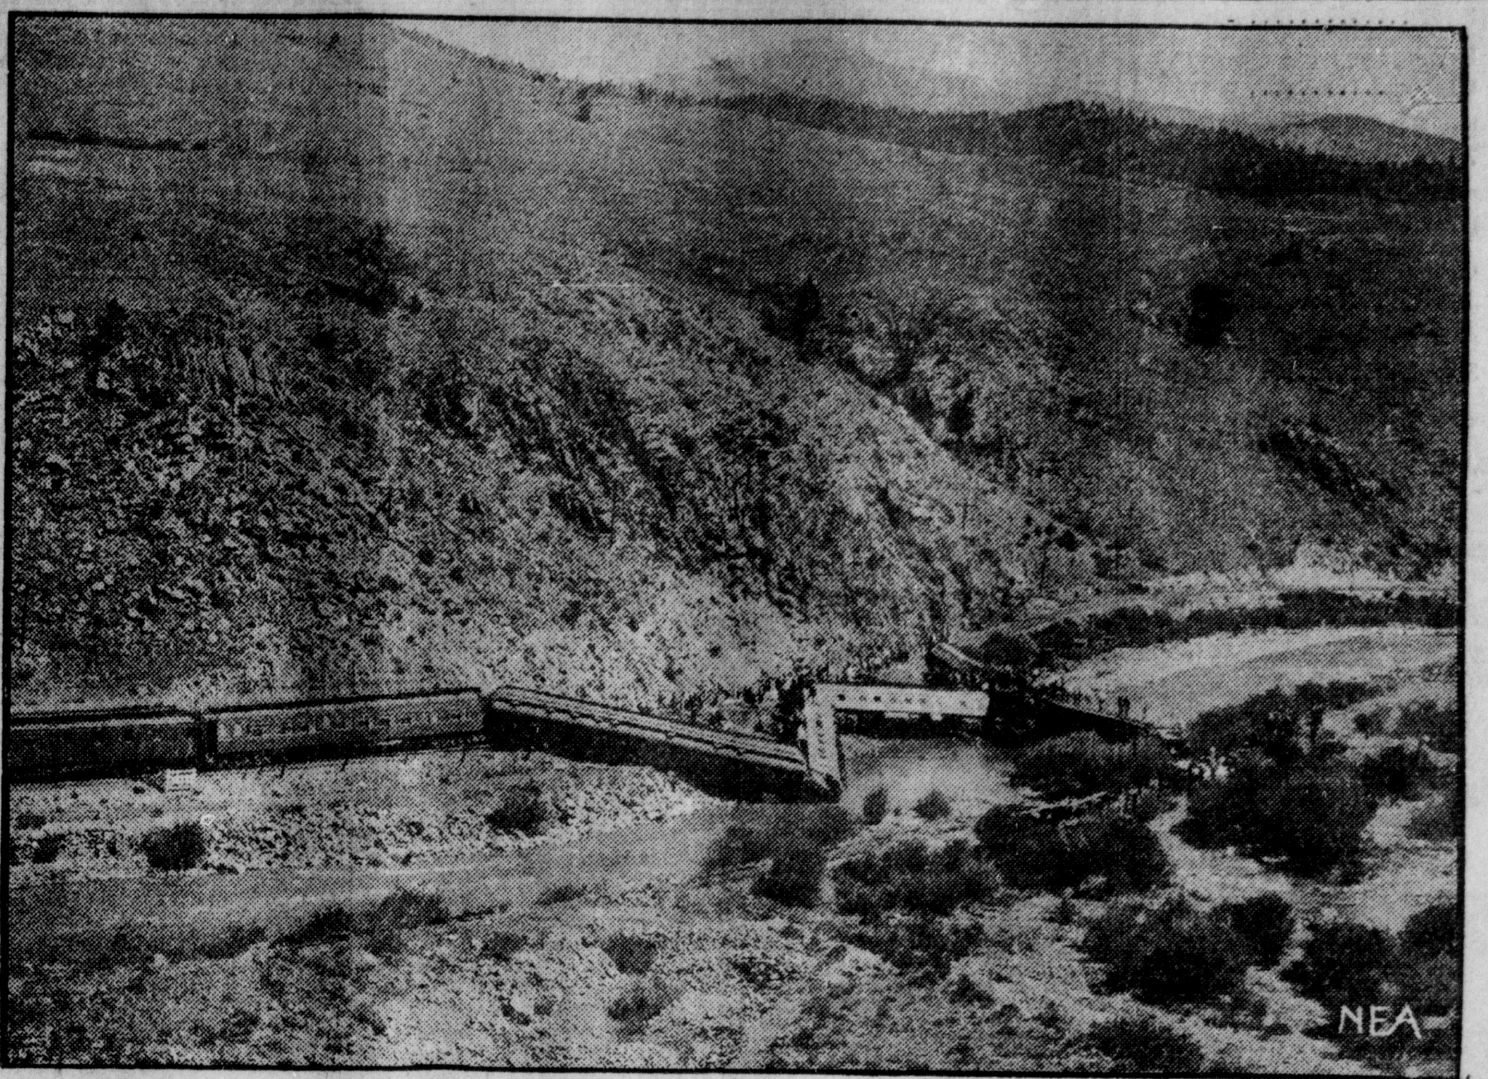

Youth Arraigned On Check Charge

Arrested Saturday night on a charge of passing a worthless check for $5, Archie Best, Santa Ana youth, was arraigned yesterday before Justice Andrew Wilson and his examining trial set for 10 a. m., September 22.

Best was fixed at $1000, which, thus far, Best has been unable to furnish.

Best has been in jail here before on check charges, according to police.

ALL SCHOOLS IN COUNTY TO CLOSE NOV. 11

Armistice Day, November 11, will this year be observed as a school holiday in all school districts of the county, according to an office bulletin issued by R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools. Heretofore this holiday has been observed in some districts at the discretion of the school trustees, it was explained.

With the approval of the trustees of the various school districts in the county, the following schedule for holidays, vacation periods and closing of schools for the school year of 1926-27 has been adopted:

November 11, Armistice Day, school holiday.

November 25 and 26, Thanksgiving holidays.

December 29 to 31, incl. Christmas vacation.

April 11 to 15, Spring vacation.

May 30, Memorial Day, school holiday.

June 10, closing of schools.

TEACHER HURT IN FALL FROM CYCLE

Mrs. Clara Enderle, teacher in the grammar schools at Tustin, was in the Santa Ana Valley hospital today, suffering from a sprained right ankle, the result of a fall from her bicycle, while enroute this morning to the school-house.

Miss Enderle resides with her brother, H. Enderle, on Yorba street, near Seventeenth. She was only a short distance from home when the accident occurred. According to reports, the front wheel of the bicycle struck a small rock on the pavement and the rider was thrown to the hard surface in such manner as to cause a fracture of the ankle. The teacher, it is understood, will be incapacitated for several days.

AVOID GOING WITH ONE GIRL, ADVISES ORANGE BOY, WINNER OF MALES' BEAUTY CONTEST

Avoid going with only one girl. That is the advice of LaVerne McKinney, 262 Olive street, Orange, who won the male beauty contest held in connection with the Orange county fair.

No girl has yet succeeded in enrapturing the Orange sheik to the exclusion of all others. In fact, McKinney likes to "stag" it in the room because he feels foolish in the act. He follows the modern trend in dress, but he does not wear extremely wide-bottomed trousers.

Young folk today like to have a good time, but they are not going to the bow-wows, he believes. The fast pace they take is assumed just to give the alarmists something to be horrified over.

The title that McKinney won was unsought. When he went to the fair he didn't know that a male beauty contest was to be held on that certain evening in the dance hall. Jack Hoxie drafted him to enter. Ten candidates were in the contest. These were eliminated to two and finally McKinney won. Popular applause was used to decide the winner.

In Packing House

Today the Orange youth—he's only 19 years old—is working in the Mutual Orange packing house, Garden Grove, where he is not at all the handsome fellow he is when dressed for the ballroom. He might be taken for a wild man instead of a parlor sheik when he allows a week's growth of beard to appear.

He has no beauty secrets, no special lotions, that explain his beauty, he said. He doesn't even keep definite hours.

Ever since he was in the grades, he has liked the girls. He said that he didn't remember his first sweetheart. Of all types of girls he is careful to avoid the red headed. The sensible girls are the ones he admires. When he marries, his choice will be a pretty brunette, with sensible ideas.

The county's handsomest man admitted that sometimes he had difficulty in going with the girls he wanted.

Talk Branded Untrue

All the talk about the wild set of young folk was branded as untrue by McKinney. He doesn't like to

ARMISTICE DAY ARRANGEMENTS ARE DISCUSSED

Meeting every two weeks since January 1 of this year, the general committee, in charge of the arrangements for Santa Ana post, No. 131, American Legion, for the seventh annual Orange county Armistice day parade, has plans practically completed for the big event.

Representatives of several other American Legion posts in the county attended the meeting of the committee last night.

Eleven bands, including the Santa Ana Municipal band, the Fullerton Municipal band, the Long Beach Municipal band, and several naval bands, will be in the parade.

A 16-inch silver trophy will be awarded the band taking first prize. A 12-inch trophy will be awarded the band winning second place. Ten cups will be awarded the winners of the respective divisions in the parade.

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of the industrial section of the parade. The industrial floats will be parked in the vacant lot just north of Birch park, in the afternoon following the parade.

J. R. Hunt, manager of the Orange county fair, has been loaned by the fair board to the American Legion committee to assist in making the parade a success. He will have charge of concessions.

An effort is being made by the Elks lodge of the county to secure the crack drill team of Bakerville, a winner at the last national convention, to take part in the parade.

Hereafter the committee will meet every Monday night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, at the American Legion hall. Jules Marcell is general chairman. It is expected that the line of march will be 25 blocks long.

Robert Langer, 6-year-old son of Mrs. Joseph Langer, Anaheim, came to his death accidentally in an automobile accident, in which he suffered a fracture of the skull, according to a verdict reached by a coroner's jury, at the Huddle funeral parlors, Anaheim, yesterday.

The boy was killed instantly, Sunday morning, when the car, driven by his mother, turned over, after colliding with another machine on Lincoln avenue, west of Anaheim.

The mother was slightly injured and was taken to an Anaheim hospital. She was able to attend the inquest yesterday.

Funeral services will be held from the Huddle parlors, tomorrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the Rev. C. S. Hayward officiating. Burial will be at Anaheim.

RETAIL TRADE TREND UPWARD. SURVEY MADE IN S. A. SHOWS

Business Conditions Improve 25 to 50 Per Cent During Last Three Weeks

LOCAL MERCHANTS REVEAL OPTIMISM

Dealers Place Big Orders For Fall Merchandise to Meet Expected Demand

Business conditions in Santa Ana have improved 25 to 50 per cent in the last three weeks, and merchants are setting their sails for a big business rush this fall, it was revealed today by a casual investigation among business houses of the city.

Optimism marked the attitude of every man with whom the present business situation was discussed, and all predicted that this fall and winter would see commercial activity here going strong.

Many dealers revealed that they had placed heavy orders for fall goods to meet the demand they feel certain will develop.

The business men interviewed virtually were unanimous in the declaration that retail trade for the first 12 days in this month was 25 to 50 per cent better than for the corresponding period last year, and some declared their volume for the year ended August 31 was far greater than for the 12 months preceding.

School Opening Helps

Opening of school admittedly was one of the reasons for an increase of business in certain lines, but the volume of this trade was far greater than during the school opening period a year ago.

Indication that many new families are coming to Santa Ana is contained in the statement of real estate brokers that the demand for rentals in the last two weeks has been greater than at any time during the last two years. They declare that the better houses are renting readily and prediction is made that few desirable dwellings will be vacant a month from now.

The merchants were at a loss to account for the sudden increase in business, but were inclined to the opinion that it is the result of a better state of mind by the public, easier conditions so far as the money market is concerned, and confidence that a permanent trend to normal conditions has set in.

Comment by Merchants

Following is the substance of expressions by a few well known business men:

L. L. Carden, of Hill and Carden, clothing store: "We have had a very satisfactory trade for the past year, but there has been a very marked improvement in buying within the last three weeks. Purchase of school clothes and early fall buying may be partly responsible for the increase trade noted. We are looking for a heavy fall trade."

E. S. Gilbert, dry goods: "Sales since September 1 have been larger than for the same period one year ago. Indications point to a good fall business and we have a larger stock of fall goods than usual in anticipation of increased business. Money is easier and collections generally are better, a fine indication of returning confidence."

Walter N. Vandermast, of Vandermast and Son, clothing: "Business is better than for some time."

AT THE THEATERS

YOST THEATER

Rex, untamed, unrivaled, unconquered, is the star of another unique film production. This is "The Devil Horse," showing today and until Saturday at the Yost theater. In it the fiery, spirited black stallion that Hal Roach found chained in a reformatory stall displays his magnificent personality in a story written for him by Roach.

Rex plays the title role—that of a huge stallion of the wilderness. Yakima Canutt, Gladys McConnell, Robert Kortman, Roy Clements and Fred Jackman Jr., play the leading human roles in "The Devil Horse," in which the entire population of the Crow Indian Reservation in Montana also appears. The Killer, the spotted stallion who plays the villain in "Black Cyclone," is similarly cast in "The Devil Horse," in which Lady, the beautiful gray mare, is the equine heroine.

WEST COAST WALKER

In dedicating a new change of policy, C. E. Walker, manager of the West Coast-Walker theater, has with the assistance of the various officials of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., succeeded in providing the first of a new style of entertainment for Santa Ana audiences.

This important key-theater would henceforth be serviced semi-weekly by Fanchon and Marco "Ideas," created unusual interest among local theater-goers.

Additional interest among music-lovers has been observed following the announcement that Way Watts and his band of nine artists have been engaged for an indefinite run at the West Coast-Walker.

Gene Stratton-Porter's famous novel, "Laddie," recently ycinematized is the escree offering at the West Coast-Walker tonight only. Fanchon and Marco have supplied one of their most brilliant stage productions in the presentation titled "Dancing Shoes," headlined by such artists as William Le Maire, late comedian of the "Passing Show;" James Burroughs, Lewis and Kellogg—Marion Morgan dancers and Jeanne Gore and the Sun-kist Beauty Ballet.

Every Wednesday has been designated as "gift night." This extraordinary theatrical innovation has found exceptional favor throughout the entire West Coast chain.

Picture-goers who visit the Yost Broadway theater are assured of a foyal good time. Douglas MacLean, acknowledged king of comedy, will be there with his latest mirthquake, "Hold That Lion," supported, as the title promisingly suggests, by several kings of the jungle.

Besides the smiling funster and his unscorable pet, the picture reveals a number of other personalities who share in the general fun and excitement. Constance Howard, a blonde and petite newcomer, makes an impressive screen debut as MacLean's leading lady. Walter Hiers, who is just as funny as he is fat and vice versa, contributes a goodly quota of laughs on his own account. Cyril Chadwick, Wade Boteler and George Pearce—all tried and true players—ably seconde and active and irrepressible star.

It is in the lion hunting scenes that the film reaches the heights of hilarity. As a big game hunter, MacLean proves that he is in a class by himself. His method of capturing a lion would make even a wooden Indian roar with laughter.

ness so far in September is far ahead of the same date a year ago. September has started with a rush and we are looking forward to big fall trade. Santa Ana is filling up with new arrivals and the increase in population is being reflected in better trading conditions.

Better Trade Noted
Sam Hurwitz, clothier—"September trade so far has been better than for the opening of the month last year. If we can judge the future by business activities of the last two or three weeks, the fall and winter months will find the merchants of Santa Ana doing a full volume of business."

J. Reinhaus, of Reinhaus Brothers, dry goods—"We are anticipating a fine fall and winter business. Indications are favorable to an increased trade."

Hugh Lowe, manager for W. A. Huff and company, clothiers—"There has been a big pickup in business in the last two weeks, and we are preparing for a big sales volume during the remaining months of the year."

August Busy Month
Claude H. Van Antwerp, dry goods—"August was a very active month with us, but there has been a big increase in volume since September 1. While some of the increase may be attributed to general buying just before the opening of school, I am satisfied that the major portion of the gain is the result of a general optimistic feeling by the general public."

S. R. Sender, of the Smart shop—"We had a real, old-time selling rush last Saturday. Comparison of our business volume for the first 12 days of September with the same period last year, reveals that we have made a big gain. It is noticeable that better quality goods are being bought, a fair indication that money is becoming more plentiful. We are looking forward to a big rush during the fall months."

Roy Peterson, footwear—"General business conditions will be going strong in Santa Ana this fall. Volume sales in my store in the last two or three weeks have shown a remarkable gain over the same weeks of last year."

GAIN IS SHOWN IN S. A. SCHOOLS

Beds In Germany Made to Order

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—American travelers, unaccustomed to sleeping on feather beds, with wedge-shaped bolsters beneath their pillows, have described the first night in a German hotel as a struggle to escape suffocation. A Berlin hotel is now supplying guests with cards upon which are described half a dozen ways of making up a bed. If an American wants to sleep in American style he checks the proper diagram on the card and leaves it to the chambermaid to do the rest.

Steps Are Taken Against Fascisti

PRAGUE, Sept. 14.—A special regulation putting a ban on all unauthorized military organizations, and prohibiting the wearing of unauthorized uniforms has been issued by the Czechoslovakia police. These measures are directed against the Fascist movement.

WOMEN WITHOUT MEN ARE FAILURES

LONDON, Sept. 14.—An attempt by the Women's Farm and Garden association to run a self-supporting colony at Lingfield without the help of men has failed. After six years of the experiment husbands now are admitted.

The colony was started by twelve young women with a 100-acre layout. These young ladies did not believe men an essential part of any plan to make farming successful. Mrs. Ruth Gentry, a tall, graceful woman with fair, shingled hair, now declares the theory that women can suitably cultivate the soil without the aid of men has broken down under experience. The members have decided that a man's strength is needed to do the heavy work. "Apart from this," adds Mrs. Gentry, "the colony is a great success."

ORANGE

ORANGE, Sept. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. R. Blake, Los Angeles, visited over the week-end at the Sunshine hotel. J. H. Noble, Acme garage superintendent, moved from 423 Lemon street to 442 South Pixley street yesterday.

Mrs. Maranda Dewhirst and son, Paul, and Miss Elva Badgley, all of Fullerton, were Sunday guests at the J. P. Boring home, 172 South Grand street. Mr. Dewhirst is instructor in the dental department of U. S. C., Los Angeles.

Miss Fern Chambers and Miss Lois Kent, of Los Angeles, and Miss Evelyn Smith, of El Segundo, were week-end guests of Miss Carol Frost at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Frost, 176 North Center street.

Miss Josephine Hardin left Sunday for Glendale, where she will teach music in the Emerson School of Self Expression. Miss Hardin will return to Orange on Thursday to continue her musical studies under Miss Gladys Gilton.

NEWS FROM ORANGE AND VICINITY

INCREASE IN ENROLLMENTS IS REVEALED

ORANGE, Sept. 14.—With but one exception, grammar and high schools in the Orange district showed increases over the enrollment of last year on the opening day of the fall semester yesterday.

The Orange union high school opened with 552 students, the records show. Last year, there were 508 present on the opening day.

Two new classes, French and German have been added. No additional teachers have been assigned, but several replacements have been made.

A. Stewart, University of Southern California music instructor, has taken the place of Percy Richards, music teacher, who is ill in England.

Mrs. R. M. Warren is instructing in organ playing, which was formerly taught by Richards. J. C. Cummings in the commercial department and Stewart N. White, physical education, are the other new teachers.

Grammar schools in the city of Orange proper have 940 pupils enrolled, it was stated by George C. Sherwood, superintendent of schools. This is an increase of 40 pupils. No additional teachers have been added.

The Olive grammar school boasts an increase of seven pupils over the last year's enrollment of 102. The present figures of 109 are expected to be increased to approximately 125 in the next two weeks, according to R. L. Spagh, principal.

Replacements in teaching personnel include Miss Madeline Clarkson for the fifth and sixth grades and Mrs. Ella Hight for the third and fourth grades. A new 30-passenger bus covering an area 10 miles square draws pupils who formerly attended other schools, according to Spagh.

Villa Park school opened with 94 pupils. This is an increase of four over last year, it is said. More students are expected to enroll later in the semester. Miss Mary Lee, who will teach music, is the only replacement in the teaching staff.

Don M. Smith, former music teacher, has replaced L. R. Jones as principal. El Modena schools lost 75 pupils because of a slack walnut crop, according to E. R. Perry, principal.

Many of these will return later in the semester, it is thought. The enrollment yesterday reached 205. Last September, when the El Modena school bell rang, 280 pupils answered.

Parochial schools in Orange and Olive showed increases. The Evangelical St. John's Lutheran school, Orange, registered 162 on the open-

L. A. Mason Will Speak at Orange Lodge's Meeting

ORANGE, Sept. 14.—Masons will hear William Schrieder, past president of the Los Angeles civil service commission, at tonight's meeting in the Masonic hall. The talk will be given following a 6:30 o'clock dinner.

All members of the Masonic fraternity are invited to hear Mr. Schrieder, who is considered one of the most interesting speakers in Los Angeles.

AUXILIARY MAKES $225 FROM BOOTH

ORANGE, Sept. 14.—With a surplus of $225, the booth maintained by the members of the local unit of the American Legion auxiliary at the county fair was adjudged a huge success, according to the members who met last night in Legion hall for the regular bi-monthly meeting.

The success of the booth prompted the women to sign for double the space for next year's fair. It is reported.

The five regularly chosen delegates to the Orange county council meetings responded to a called meeting in Brea today. Mrs. Vern Shippee, Orange county council president; Mrs. Nelle Ragan, local president; Mrs. Mabel Slater, Mrs. Louise Prosester and Mrs. Mabel Baier attended the meeting, which started with a 12:30 luncheon.

A committee of five, with Mrs. Mabel Baier as chairman, was appointed to arrange the local unit's participation in the Armistice day celebration.

An American flag to match the unit banner recently purchased was ordered purchased by the president. The flag will arrive before the next meeting, it is thought.

Mrs. Grace Weston, Hemet, eleventh district committee woman, plans to visit the local unit early in November, it is reported.

At the time of her visit, it is planned to have a pot-luck dinner. As the American Legion auxiliary has planned to prepare and serve a Chamber of Commerce dinner on September 27, its next regular meeting night, the meeting will be held on September 22.

ing day, September 7, as against 158 last year. St. Paul's Lutheran school, Olive, increased from 40 last year to 44 this term.

It is believed by many of the principals and teachers in the schools that more pupils will sign up in classes during the next few days, thus raising the total enrollment.

TUSTIN MAN FINED $25 IN ORANGE COURT

ORANGE, Sept. 14.—G. A. Luz, Tustin, appeared before Justice of the Peace G. W. Ingle this morning in answer to a trespassing complaint issued by Jack Meek, Irvine ranch watchman, recently. Luz was fined $25.

Luz, who was one of several hunters cited into the local court during the past week, also was charged with possessing over the bag limit of doves. Dean W. Campbell and A. P. Trawick, Santa Ana, scheduled to appear this morning, will not appear until Friday, it was reported.

Complaints against three Los Angeles men are said to have been dropped by the Irvine company. These men, Kenneth Cooper, Roland Ponties and Walter Albert, appeared before Ingle to answer the charges but were released because of the dismissal of the charges.

Meek, who sustained injuries from a fall from a fence some days ago, is reported to have turned in his resignation, to take effect upon his recovery.

WOMEN TO HEAR CONVENTION DATA

ORANGE, Sept. 14.—Reports of the national convention of Business and Professional Women's clubs in Des Moines recently will be given at the next meeting of the local club, it was decided at the regular weekly dinner meeting last night in the Rochester hotel.

Miss Iva Reeves, local delegate will give the report.

Vacation reports will be given by the various members, according to plans.

Last night's program was furnished by R. Frick and Miss Catherine Fitch, who staged a skit for the club.

Watch Elimination!

Good Health Requires Good Elimination

RETENTION of bodily waste matter in the blood is referred to as a "toxic condition." This often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling, and sometimes toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning perfectly at such times is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. Many people have learned to assist their kidneys in ridding the blood of these toxic products by drinking plenty of pure water and the occasional use of a stimulant diuretic. Doan's Pills are a stimulant diuretic and act on the kidneys only. They have earned a national reputation. Ask your neighbor!

An Announcement

One hundred and fifty years ago the Fathers began the building of the Mission San Juan Capistrano, the forerunner of the town. The years have rolled by, the sovereignty of the land has changed from Spain to Mexico, from Mexico to the United States, but still the historic nature of the town has remained unchanged, nor have the ravages of time destroyed the romance which here abounds and with it all the private ownership of land has seen but few changes.

But the march of progress, the touch of modern life, the magic power of civilization has forced an entering wedge and today San Juan Capistrano is on the threshold of a new and better day—a day of great opportunity.

Every town in southern California that I know of has sooner or later come into its own and when once started progress and development has been with almost lightning-like rapidity and real estate values have advanced by leaps and bounds.

Fortunate indeed have been the first buyers of close-in lots in each of these places. I believe that Mission Hills at San Juan Capistrano offers you just such an opportunity.

There is a great scarcity of homes in San Juan Capistrano—rents are high when you find a place, but the great cry is more homes. Located but three blocks from the busiest corner in the town, across the street from the high school and within a stone's throw of the grade school.

These lots, centrally located as they are, you can buy for These sensational prices are made possible by a greatly increased factory production due to the overwhelming sales success of the new Overland Whippet models.

Since the introduction of these radically new models their popularity has grown by leaps and bounds, and the factory goes into the fall months with full production schedules.

This big price drop represents a saving of from $40 to $120 and offers a buying opportunity of rare value.

QUOTATIONS ON BEANS LOWER THAN EXPECTED

Definite prices, f. o. b. cars for September-October shipments were named yesterday by the marketing committee of California Lima Bean Growers' association, as follows:

Seaside, per hundredweight, 11 mas, $7.05; baby limas, $6.80. Choice re cleaned, per hundredweight, 11 mas, $6.80; baby limas, $6.55.

These prices are considerably lower than the association and the growers generally had, several weeks ago, expected would be the current market at the beginning of the new crop season, but old crop beans, all of which are in the hands of outside growers and dealers, kept declining in price and did not entirely clear up.

The dull market caused the jobbing trade, which has suffered heavy losses during recent months due to falling prices, to be ready to believe all reports received as to prospects for big crops and to consider as bona fide the steadily lower tentative quotations or expressions of opinion as to price declines coming every few days from various coast shippers.

These conditions seemed to make it more important than usual to try and name prices for first sales that should insure the confidence of the wholesale grocers and of outside growers in the belief that the market had opened at bottom point from which it should move upward in a healthy way. Anticipating this result and a good buying demand, the association looks forward to being able to advance its quotations shortly.

Tabulation just completed from the crop estimates sent in by grower members of the association within the last few days indicates, when applying averages in each district to total acreage planted, a total field run production of about 1,105,000 bags, field run, of regular limas, which is close to the association's preliminary estimates. On account of being more widely scattered, the baby lima crop is more difficult to estimate, but the association figures the total crop of these will run between 375,000 and 400,000 bags.

COURT GRANTS INJUNCTION TO STOP BIG BOUT

Coliseum Club of Chicago, Winner In Indiana, To Bring New Action In Pa.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 14.—James Farrabaugh, attorney, was to leave here today for Philadelphia to begin a second round of legal action to prevent Jack Dempsey, heavy-weight champion, from fighting Gene Tunney, challenger, a week from Thursday at Philadelphia.

Farrabaugh last night won an injunction here restraining Dempsey from meeting Tunney for the championship until he first meets Harry Wills, negro challenger.

The injunction was issued by Superior Judge Clinton Givan, who expressed doubt whether it would be effective in Pennsylvania. Farrabaugh immediately decided to institute similar proceedings in Philadelphia, with the same evidence used here.

The attorney represents the Coliseum club of Chicago, which holds a contract with Dempsey for a fight with Wills.

Judge Givan granted the petition of the Chicago Coliseum club for the injunction on the ground that the possession of a contract for Dempsey to fight Harry Wills, by the Chicago organization, constitutes a property right.

Despite the fact that the Indiana court cannot officially recognize "prize fights," it does recognize property rights, and that is what the court holds the contract to be, Judge Givan ruled.

Judge Givan's conclusion, reached after a day of wrangling in the courts, held that the Coliseum club contract is legal, that Dempsey intended to and did violate terms of the contract before the date the first payment was due him and that

LOST TO REDS

Cincinnati's pennant hopes sustained a crushing blow the other day when little Jackie May, former Vernon, Calif., southpaw, suffered an injury that will keep him out of the game for the rest of the season. May was one of the most consistent of the Cincinnati moundsmen.

because of this the club has lost thousands of dollars in damages. The jurist said that Dempsey was a peaceful man, while America's best youth was fighting for $30 a month."

ATTORNEY SAYS DECISION WILL STOP FIGHT

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—The decision of an Indianapolis judge will stop the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Philadelphia, John Whiteside, attorney for B. C. Clements, who drew up the bill presented in the Indiana court, said today.

"Under the conditions, the Pennsylvania court must issue an injunction stopping the fight," Whiteside declared. "That court must give full faith and credit to the act of a sister state."

FLUOR CINCH STRONGER HOLD ON LOOP LEAD

The Fluor Construction company today maintained its stranglehold on first place in the Santa Ana City Indoor Baseball league following its decisive 5 to 1 triumph over Lee's Fountain, one of its closest pursuers, at Lincoln park last night.

A three-run outburst in the very first inning definitely settled the issue for Lloyd Johnson, the premier pitcher of the loop, wasn't in the mood for losing ball games. He held the Soda Jerkers in check for eight of the nine chapters, the lone run of the losers coming in the third on hits by Ivan Belcher and Les Fulson, and those three runs loomed long and large all the way through. Johnson allowed only five hits and fanned nine.

To make the outcome more certain, however, the Constructionists picked on Earl Jones, who went to the turret for the Fontaines in lieu of the absent Jimmy Mansfield, for single tallies in the second and eighth. Jones pitched a pair country ball game himself, putting out but five bingles and whiffing five.

Hits by Rasmussen and Fred Fluor, two errors and a wild pitch accounted for the three Fluor counters in the opener. A pass to Homer and passed balls and wild out and Cole's single and wild pitches completed their run-getting in the eighth.

With an opportunity to move into second place in the circuit standing, the F. C. Blauer Grocers go against the climbing and dangerous Excelsior Creamery company at Lincoln park this evening.

ANENT PHIL BALL
Fate has been rather unkind this year to Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns.

His team had come fast at the close of last season to finish in third place and everything seemed lovely for a big year in 1926.

Some of the experts were kind enough to express the opinion that the Browns should prove strong pennant contenders. Owner Ball rather shared in the belief.

Back in 1923 the Browns had been a contender and many times during that season it would have been possible to fill the park if it had been twice as large.

Cherishing the thought that the Browns would be in the race this year from start to finish, even though it failed to win the pennant. Owner Ball decided the park should be remodeled, the seating capacity doubled.

SPIRIT OF RED
TEAM PRAISED
BY HENDRICKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Last week when Rogers Hornsby and his regular pitching staff of the Cardinals were spending an off day scouting the New York Yankees, the Rajah told New York sport writers:

"We're about in now. We're ahead and we can't be caught."

Today the manager of another club standing abreast of St. Louis in the race for the National league pennant volunteered an opinion.

"We're still in the race, aren't we?" Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, said. "If there is such a thing as second wind we have it. We've been caught and passed several times and we have fallen behind but we are still up there."

Hendricks was asked why he had so much confidence in a club that the experts said had no business in the first division.

"I don't have to give a good reason," he answered. "The averages in the club standing will show you why we are right in the race for the pennant. We have a good balanced club, not a tremendous hitting club, but one that seems to hit when a run or several runs are necessary. We have a good pitching staff and above all—

"We are all working together."

"The manager is just the goat," Hendricks said. "If he wins he is great. If he loses he is a bum. If the Reds come through this year, I want no more credit than that. I have been privileged for a season to spend a great many days among some of the finest boys I ever have known."

King Forced To Utmost to Win

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 14.—William T. Tilden, six times champion, gave one of the worst exhibitions of his career in the first round of the 45th title series at the West Side Tennis club here late yesterday when he defeated John Van Ryn, young Princeton player, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5, 6-2.

Tilden limped about the court and failed to make tries for shots that are ordinarily easy for him.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—Jack Silver will probably be the man to oppose Baby Joe Gans in the headliner at the Olympic auditorium tomorrow night. Tommy O'Brien, who was to appear against the colored flash, broke his right hand while boxing with Bobby La Salle in the Manhattan gymnasium yesterday.

BILLY EVANS

At the close of last season work was started on the new park.

In the spring, the St. Louis Cardinals and Browns played two games. The Browns won both from Manager Hornsby's team, then strongly favored as a National league contender.

All things certainly pointed to a big year for the St. Louis Browns. It looked as if the quarter of a million dollars spent in park improvement would be cleared up in the first year.

Then the team proceeded to perform contrary to the predictions of the experts. Instead of being a pennant contender, the Browns have been in the second division all season. Seventh is about the best the club can finish.

The Cardinals on the other hand, have figured in one of the most thrilling races of years in the National league.

So it turns out that Phil Ball remodeled his ball park so that his rival club might profit by his act.

TEN ROUNDS WITH DEMPSEY;
JACK BEST TWO-FISTED PUG

By JOE WILLIAMS

(This is the fifth of a series of 10 articles by Joe Williams, fistic critic of NEA Service Inc., relating some of the more interesting and unusual episodes in the pugilistic career of Champion Jack Dempsey. Watch for sodes in the pugilistic career of Champion Jack Dempsey. Watch for the daily on the sport page of The Register—Sport Editor's note.)

Jack Dempsey is a two-handed fighter. Probably he is the best two-handed fighter the heavy-weight division ever had. One hand is about as dangerous as the other.

In his fight with Jess Willard, when he won the title, he knocked the towering Kansan down with a left hook under the heart. When Willard got back on his feet Dempsey sent him bouncing again with a right to the temple.

When Dempsey started he was, like most untutored fighters, strictly a right-handed swinger. Jack Kearns made him over into a two-handed fighter by tying his right hand to his side and forcing him to battle sparring partners with his left alone.

Dempsey admits that it was in this way that he developed the peculiar weaving and bobbing style which makes him such an elusive target in the ring. Using only one hand he had to weave and bob to keep from being hammered.

While there is just as much dynamite in one hand as the other, Dempsey thinks his left is his best weapon because he can hook and jab and uppercut with it. On top of this he can punch faster with his left than his right.

Old-timers say that Dempsey's attack is not much different from the one that Bob Fitzsimmons used to use. Bob used to shoot left hooks at the head and the body, using his right mainly to smash against the heart, or rather just at the edge of the ribs under the heart.

Dempsey goes after these vulnerable points, too. And, like Bob, he shoots most of his salvos from the shift position—that weave we were talking about in an earlier paragraph. Because Dempsey is faster than Fitz ever was, his weave is more effective than the one that Jim Corbett's word for that.

Dempsey uses what you might call a double-barreled shift. He starts it from either side. Almost every succession of blows he strikes is delivered in a shift movement, for he steps forward with every punch and thus throws himself into shooting position with his other hand.

Dempsey does most of his execution with his left hooks. He has a remarkable double punch with his left modeled (so I am told by the graybeards) after that of his namesake, the Nonpareil. Dempsey is the only fighter in the game today who uses the "double left" with consistent effect.

Curled Up to Jaw
The "double left" is one of the most successful punches in a boxer's repertoire when perfectly executed, and is little more than waste motion when imperfectly applied. The punch is first driven to the stomach and then curled upward to the jaw. If the midriff is unprotected the receiver must take a skin-searing left to the body.

To protect the stomach the opponent must bring down his guard. This obviously leaves the jaw exposed. The "double left" has greater winning possibilities than the highly esteemed one-two, which is, as everybody knows, a left lead followed by a right cross.

Only the quick hitters have any business trying to manipulate the "double left." Ox-men like Willard and Firpo could never use it. The "double left" is invariably against big, slow men handicapped by arm sluggishness.

Veteran ring followers say George Dixon had the best "double left" in the history of boxing, a "double left" which he used in both ways, overhand from jaw to body, and upwards from body to jaw. Dempsey lacks this versatility. Invariably he shoots from body to jaw.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—Ed ("Strangler") Lewis, claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, will be a favorite over Wayne ("Big") Munn, former University of Nebraska star, when they enter the ring tonight at Vernon for a two hour grappling match.

CANDIDATE ROLL SMALL
AT HIGH SCHOOL AND J. C.; FEW VETS BACK IN FOLD

Santa Ana's chase for football's highest laurels was on today. It officially began late yesterday when a determined and likely-looking, even if small, group of gladiators reported to "Tex" Oliver for an 11-week campaign in the moleskins of the Santa Ana high school and a similar bunch, also few in numbers, answered the clarion call of Graham Harris, Santa Ana junior college mentor.

Exactly 33 candidates lined up before Coach Oliver when the former San Diego high school pilot started his machinery in motion out on the Poly greensward. Some of them, possibly a third, will not even be seekers of positions on the varsity squad but will be content to look for honors on the lightweight teams.

If Oliver was discouraged by the small turnout he didn't show it. He issued an appeal that members of the squad urge other students to report for the team—that was the only reference made, directly or indirectly, to the apparent lack of interest in Poly's gridiron future.

The better part of half an hour was devoted to the customary outlining of policies and plans for the season. The rest of the two-hour practice went to a study of football fundamentals—tackling, falling on the ball and conditioning for wind. The workout was called to an end about 5:30 o'clock.

Captain Dean Millen, guard; Guy Harvey, fullback, and Francis Harvey, end, were the only letterman from last year's squad to report. Ralph Selway, quarter, and Chet Siegel, center, were on the field but not in suit. They probably will don the moleskins for their initial workout this afternoon. Harvey Durkee, regular quarterback until declared ineligible last fall and heavily counted on to fill a backfield berth this year, has typhoid fever and is probably lost to the team.

Several veterans and a promising batch of newcomers, many of them experienced players from Orange county high schools, were out for a brief workout with the junior college outfit. More will report this afternoon when they have completed the arduous duties of registration for classes.

40 CANDIDATES REPORT
AT PASADENA

PASADENA, Sept. 14.—Harry B. Milhollin, high school varsity mentor, drilled a squad of forty candidates in light practice last week. His squad should double in size this week, with all the returning players and more than a score of new men ready to report. Before the start of the Coast league schedule Coach Milhollin will cut his squad to thirty-five men, and a junior varsity will be formed with the remainder. E. P. Niday will take over the junior varsity and prepare it for a schedule of eight games.

Coach R. Frank Baker, who was appointed chief mentor of the junior college varsity last Saturday, will have no time to lose, with the Caltech freshman game only three weeks distant. The junior college gridgers have not even been given suits yet and this afternoon will be a busy one for the Jaycee squad.

Coach Baker will have nearly two teams of experienced players as well as several promising new men from which to select his squad.

College Grid Practice
'On' Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—The 1926 collegiate football season will be officially opened in Southern California tomorrow when gridgers at the training camps of various Southern California colleges hold their first practice session.

More than 65 candidates are expected to report to Coach Howard Jones at the University of Southern California. Many of these drew uniforms yesterday and the remainder will be outfitted today.

USE OF PASSES
CURBED BY '26
FOOTBALL RULE

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Experiments in limiting the defensive use of the forward pass and curbing it as an indiscriminating offensive weapon will provide one of the interesting features of the coming football season.

After long deliberation on complaints that the forward pass was being used defensively by many teams as a means of stalling and killing time late in a game, the rules committee last winter changed the rules to impose a penalty of five yards, as well as the loss of a down, in each instance where a team makes more than one incomplete forward pass during the same series of four downs.

Opinion as to the merits of the new rule and its effect on the open game is fairly well divided among the coaches. Veterans of the old school, who have offered all the resistance possible to the introduction of "basket ball" tactics in the game welcomed what they considered a return to real football. Younger coaches criticized the rule as a curb on a department of the game that has made it the most popular of all outdoor games.

Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach, however, is one of those who believe that the new rule will have very little effect on the game or a spectator. His opinion should be worth something as he has been one of the foremost in the development of the forward pass.

Another change, designed to curb the use of a safety as a defensive weapon, forces the team scoring the safety to put the ball in play by a kick from its own twenty yard line.

SCOTS ELECT OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

Officers for the coming year were elected by the Scots, at their last meeting, Wednesday evening, in El Camino hall. The new officers are: Walter Wright, toparch; Ed Gritton, mobib; Noah Mayhill, armies; William Dean, pastiphori; Lloyd Roach, delegate to convention, and M. F. McClay, alternate delegate.

Plans for the annual outing at Catalina island, Saturday and Sunday of this week, were completed. Every Scot organization in Southern California will be represented. A program of hikes, dances and games has been arranged. Boats will leave Wilmington Saturday morning, at 10:30 o'clock, and in the afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served.

51 CANDIDATES TO RIDE ELKS' GOAT

Fifty-one candidates will be initiated into the Elks lodge tonight, at a meeting which bids fair to be one of the most interesting of the year. Besides the initiation of the candidates a large number of names will be balloted upon.

A surprise entertainment will be provided and refreshments will be served.

According to William McKay, exalted ruler, plans for a picnic at Orange County park, on Tuesday, September 21, are being completed. It will be an old-fashioned basket picnic. Coffee will be served free. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock. There will be a dance from 8 until 11 o'clock.

1200 WITNESS CEREMONY OF SCOTTISH RITE TEMPLE DEDICATION IN LONG BEACH

A symbolic ritualistic ceremony, witnessed by more than 1200 persons, many of them from Santa Ana, marked the formal dedication, Saturday night, of the new $500,000 Scottish Rite cathedral, in Long Beach. A number of Santa Ana Masons, who are connected with the Scottish Rite bodies at Long Beach, were present. Members of the Consistory were permitted to bring one feminine guest and soon the auditorium was filled to capacity.

The ceremony, which was preceded by a program of sacred music, directed by William Conrad Mills, was followed by a reception to the Dedication class of 288 members and then a dance. The musical program was featured by the appearance of the vested choir of the First Methodist church, Ruth Burdick Williams and Mrs. Eugene E. Tinscher as soloists. Mrs. Robert I. Reese as pianist and Robert M. Boulden as the organ.

Honored guests of the evening were six 33rd degree Masons, Perry W. Weidner, sovereign grand inspector general of the bodies of the Rite in Southern California; William Rhodes Harvey, John Logie, Dan J. Brownstein, all of Los Angeles; McDougal Snowball, of Pasadena; and Judge Bissell Burr, of Covina, who belongs to the Valley of Long Beach.

Taking part in the ceremony were Perry W. Weidner, Aubrey Rivers Parks, his deputy in Long Beach; William McGinnies, Joseph Stiebel and Frank Gentry, all of whom played an important part in the building of the cathedral. Oil portraits of the first two named were unveiled and presented to the cathedral by Joseph Stiebel.

Pays Glowing Tribute In his short address, Mr. Weidner paid a glowing tribute to the work of his deputy, Mr. Parks, and declared the cathedral "a very creditable structure which will prove an institution in Long Beach and Southern California."

The Dedication class, which received the 33rd degree, organized by electing James H. Jordan, of Riverside, as president, and Judge P. E. Keeler, of Long Beach, secretary. These officers will hold for a life tenure, and have charge of all class reunions. The gift of the Dedication class to the new Scottish Rite cathedral was the magnificent pipe organ and chimes.

At the close of the 33rd degree ritual, the officers of the Scottish Rite bodies in the Valley of Long Beach, with visiting brethren of the 33rd degree, and Perry W. Weidner, 33rd degree, sovereign grand inspector general in Southern California, were received in the cathedral and addressed the class. Mr. Weidner made a speech congratulating the organizations on the completion

Hermosa Chapter In Social Session

Monday night's meeting of Hermosa chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, at Masonic temple, was almost entirely a social one. Following the brief business meeting, the evening was spent in playing bridge. Mrs. Otto Haan was awarded first prize and Mrs. J. W. Mitchell second. Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Dr. J. E. Paul and Judson Sutherland.

It was announced that the entertainment for next Monday's meeting, as well as the refreshments, would be in charge of the men. The meeting will be known as "Brothers' Night."

PYTHIAN KNIGHTS FOUNDED IN 1884

The order of the Knights of Pythias is a fraternal organization, founded in Washington, D. C., in 1884. Its objects are the practice of friendship, benevolence and charity, and the exemplification of the friendship of Damon and Pythias, the two Grecian characters, on whose friendship the order was founded. It is purely an American order. The constitution was adopted at Washington and under it was organized, as the central governing body, the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias of the World.

Santa Ana lodge, No. 149, was founded in 1886, and is a branch of this order. The Pythian knight-hood confers three ranks, or degrees, rank of page, rank of esquire and rank of knight. The motto of the order is: "Be generous, brave and true."

The Pythian order teaches love of country and the flag and impresses upon the members the fundamentals upon which civilization is founded, respect for God, respect for law and respect for one another. Tomorrow evening, the rank of page will be conferred on a number of candidates.

Annual Rummage Sale Scheduled

The annual rummage sale of the Torosa Rebekah lodge will be held on Friday and Saturday of this week, in the rooms where Mollie's store was located, at Fourth and Spurgeon streets. All Thursday afternoon, the marking committee, headed by Mrs. Mary Cooper and Mrs. Blanche Chandler, will be at the store, where donations will be received. Donations may consist of clothing, hats, shoes and dishes. The money made in this manner by the lodge will be added to the general fund and used later for philanthropic work.

REBEKAH CHAPLAIN GIVEN RECEPTION

Mrs. Amelia Prather, chaplain of Rebekah assembly, was honored Wednesday night at a reception given for her by members of the Torosa Rebekah lodge. Mrs. Prather entered the hall, which was decorated with bouquets of dahlias, as the central figure in a beautiful procession. The cantons in uniform preceded Miss Norma Win-good, past noble grand. Next came Mrs. Florence Crawford, district deputy president, who was escorting Mrs. Prather. The procession advanced to a place in front of the noble grand, Mrs. Leona Talbott, who received Mrs. Prather.

Mrs. Nelson, Sycamore lodge, entered the room, dressed in colonial costume and carrying a huge bouquet. After singing "In an Old Fashioned Garden," Mrs. Nelson handed the flowers to Mrs. Irene Mitchell, who presented them to Mrs. Prather, with the congratulations of the Past Noble Grands association. Mrs. Nelson then led the line of march to the chairs where the members were seated.

Those having seats of honor next to the noble grand were Ruth Kantz, marshal of the assembly; Roy Bishop, grand marshal of the grand lodge; George Prather, past lieutenant colonel of the Patriarchs Militant; Mrs. Florence Crawford, deputy district president, and Carle Bamforth, deputy president of district No. 26.

The following program was rendered: Dialog duet by Mrs. Estelle Ludwig and Mrs. Schutt; reading, Mrs. Mary Watkins; vocal solo, Mrs. Carrie Bamforth; reading, Mrs. Ledtke; vocal solo, Herschel Clayton.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Refreshments of punch and wafers were served.

Neighbors Plan For Track Meet

Royal Neighbors, who met last night at M. W. A. hall, made plans for a district track meet, to be held in Santa Ana, on September 27, when the local lodge will be host to the lodges in Bellflower, Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange and Laguna Beach. Plans also were made for requiring the side with the least attendance at a meeting to provide the program for the next meeting. This plan will be continued throughout the coming year.

MONUMENTS TO BE GIVEN PROTECTION

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Further protection for historical monuments is to be proposed by a bill introduced by several senators, headed by Guillaume Chastenet, who drafts the senate's report on the fine arts budget.

The bill will provide that all buildings, private or public, or of archaeological interest sufficient to make their preservation desirable, shall be inventoried. Owners thereafter may not modify these listed monuments without informing the fine arts department of their intention and of what they propose to do. If the department thinks well, it can, when so notified, classify these monuments without the government's authorization. No indemnity will be paid for such classification.

If a historical monument is sold, the minister of fine arts will be empowered to search for and order it to be replaced at the joint expense of the seller and buyer.

Prices of Goods Taking Big Jump

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 14.—Information from a trustworthy source indicates that prices of all goods in the Don Basin area of Russia have risen greatly recently. Crops in the Don Basin are reported to be below the average and several big industrial schemes on which large sums have been expended may have to be abandoned.

EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Sept. 14.—Two Sunday school classes, the King's Daughters and the Knights of Honor, joined in holding a party at the W. F. Crist home on Thursday evening. Miss Nellie Crist, teacher of the girls' class was hostess. Games were played, sandwiches, cake and punch were served to the following: Dorothy Bartley, Frances Barnett, Orpha Stanfield, Lenore Lutz, Ruby Gray, Ruth Stoner, Marjorie Lan Franco, Lena May Willsey, Emma Hatt, Louise Ferree and Lynliere Paddock, of the King's Daughters, and Tyler Coburn, Kanyon Moody, Russel Bright, Bruce Barnett, Hurshel Snyder, Luth Hadley and Henry Stoner of the Knights of Honor.

PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS Bothered Nearly a Year. Cuticura Heals.

"My trouble started with blackheads which gradually developed into pimples. The pimples were very hard and often painful, causing me much worry and annoyance as I was going to school. I was bothered with the pimples for nearly a year.

"I tried two or three remedies but without success. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they afforded almost immediate relief. I continued using them and inside of a month I was completely healed." (Signed) Richard Shriver, Philomath, Oregon.

FISHER BODIES

GENERAL MOTORS

THE INEVITABLE BODY ON THE QUALITY CARS

There could be no greater proof of Fisher quality than the selection of Bodies by Fisher for all of the leading makes of cars, in all price divisions.

Fisher Bodies have been exclusively adopted for all divisions of the General Motors Corporation, for instance.

And whether your selection be Cadillac, Buick, Chevrolet, Oakland, Oldsmobile or Pontiac, on every General Motors car you find a body with all of the inbuilt factors of safety, comfort and convenience which have made a Body by Fisher the standard of highest quality the world over. New products of General Motors have just been announced.

As you consider their greater merits we ask you to give particular attention to their exclusive use of Bodies by Fisher.

The latest Fisher creations set the new General Motors cars as far ahead in safety, comfort, beauty and convenience as any mechanical improvements could possibly do.

If it isn't a SPARK it isn't a genuine LID-TOP

The secret of LID-TOP'S tremendous success is in the SPARK Baffle-plate, which supplies air to the rear burners and insures perfect ventilation and thorough combustion. The SPARK Baffle-plate is fully protected by U. S. Patents, and can be found ONLY on the SPARK stove.

POE'S STORIES: Hop-Frog

Sketches by Redner
Synopsis by Braucher

Hop-Frog then unfolded to the king and his seven ministers his plan for the masquerade. He would dress the eight men as orang-outangs, chaining them together as though they had just been brought from some savage country. He asked His Majesty to imagine the terror the eight orang-outangs would cause.

The king was intrigued by the idea of striking fear to the hearts of all when the animals, with wild cries, should break in on the masque.

"Oh, this is exquisite!" exclaimed the king. "Hop-Frog, I will make a man of you." But Hop-Frog's look boded no good.

Hop-Frog then proceeded to carry out his idea. The king and his ministers were first dressed in tight-fitting stockinet shirts and drawers, then saturated with tar. For the sake of realism the dwarf then plastered flax upon the tar. The eight were chained in a circle, with chains crossing in the center. (Continued.)

A WOMAN ON A DIET

A woman vows that she will diet, Sees chocolate cake and longs to try it. Renounces angel food and pie, But casts on them a hungry eye. Henceforth where'er she takes a seat They serve her favorite things to eat.

Hunger provides a sauce that's biting, And makes the plainest food inviting. Foes, in the guise of friends, assert A little bit of this won't hurt. They tempt her, sometimes as a test With dainties which she likes the best.

Where'er her social duties lead her On cateries they try to feed her. The doctor says, stop this and that If you'd get rid of surplus fat. An easy thing to say, 'tis true, But not an easy thing to do.

Most any woman told to diet Smiles and decides that she will try it. But tempted off her courage fails, Up climbs the needle on the scales. Few can the lure of food refuse, Only the stoutest hearts can lose.

Once Upon a Time
THE DRUNKEN DRIVER WAS SAFE IN THE BACK SEAT

By TOM SIMS

Once upon a time, a fellow would go out and have a few drinks. The sidewalks and buildings would start acting peculiar, so he would call a cab similar to the one above. The cabbie would either ask the fellow his address, or look through his clothes and get it off an old letter. After a short drive the hilarious gentleman would arrive home safely. That, however, was "once upon a time." Now a fellow goes out and has a few drinks. He climbs into his auto. Perhaps a more sober-minded friend will remonstrate. "I can drive better drunk than I can sober," replies the hilarious one. "And besides, I'm not drunk." Sometimes he arrives home safely. Sometimes he absent-mindedly begins to admire the scenery and becomes a part of it.

IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—"Waiting table," once a pet vacation job for college students, seems to have been permanently replaced by "jazz-banding."

One Broadway agent tells me his offices and mail are becoming cluttered with pleas from college lads for resort and cafe work during the vacation months.

And, as for the co-eds, any number of requests are received for "entertaining and hostess work." A large number of these emphasize the ability to do the Charleston.

On the other hand, ambitious young artists and writers who once were pictured as "starving in Greenwich Village garrets," appear in many sections of Manhattan "waiting on table."

One of the Times Square region cafeterias has a corps of noon-hour waiters, all of them struggling artists, who exchange their labor for their meals. No other compensation is demanded.

Further, they make it known that they will not accept tips for services. Are they not "artists?" A number of patrons, thinking the "no-tip" request to be a mere gesture, left dimes and quarters. On the following day they found them displayed in a glass case as "souvenirs." The young literary aspirants had turned them down.

Last winter I used to chat with a bright looking youngster who brought me tea and toast of Sunday noons in a MacDougal street tea room. Immediately after leaving the order he would go to a corner by a big fireplace and zestfully begin editing a manuscript.

Passing a Fifth Avenue book store the other day I noticed a placard announcing that this young man would "autograph copies of his new book 'for all purchasers.'"

A much-told tale about the "village" concerns a sculptor and painter who for many months lived in a bleak studio with hunger as his room-mate.

Those who knew art saw in him a man of great ability. His work was shown in one of the leading galleries and a monthly magazine, devoted to society and the arts, published many reproductions, praising them highly. But his work was not "popular." It did not sell.

With fame and praise all about him, the man was slowly starving. Yet he said nothing.

One day, after he had not been seen about for some time, acquaintances went to his room. They found him in a state of collapse. A partly munched crust of bread told the story.

His story went around the village and came to the ears of a Chicago heiress who chanced to be visiting Manhattan. Within a few months they were married.

The other day I saw him drive through the village in a grand coupe. He passed the scene of his one-time sadly.

IT'S WORK, NOT WANTING, WINS

By OLIVER ROBERTS BARTON

It is all very well to whistle to keep up one's courage, but a blare of brass horns is not essential to our entering the arena of success.

Boys and girls who have finished college and are starting out for themselves need have no qualms because they come unannounced. If they see clearly, know what they are going to do, and want to do, and stick to it, there isn't any great doubt of success sooner or later.

The Fokker plane, the "Josephine Ford," went quietly to the Pole and back. Commander Byrd knew he was going, quietly worked and planned for it for months and did it quite as successfully as the Norge, which the press had advertised from the time it was a blueprint.

Clarabelle Barrett smiled at the publicity given other American swimmers. "I've been training all my life," she said quietly. "I should be able to do that." Without any bid for distinction in swimming the channel, she slid into the water and broke the record for women, to that date.

We pay too much attention to results. Successful precedents may be as discouraging as they are inspiring. We pay too little attention to effort.

Could we look into stuffy offices, hot roaring mills, and back street shops, we might find more real inspiration than in the biographies of steel magnates, railroad presidents and successful bankers. The thousands of embryo successes in process of consummation are as obscure as now, most probably, as the desert flowers.

I never believed much in the last part of the old saw about greatness. There may be some who have it thrust upon them, but not enough to take the breath to say it.

Singleness of purpose and hard work seldom meet with failure. Singleness of purpose may branch and flower when it reaches the bearing stage. That takes care of itself.

Young people starting on careers need not be discouraged because the horn announces that another winner has crossed the line. Some day each one can say, "I can do that! I have been preparing for it all my life." Before they know it they are in the winning class themselves.

Queer Quirks of

THEY BLOSSOM IN THE SNOW

By MARY VAUX WALCOTT
Smithsonian Institution

Snow we associate with winter, flowers with summer; yet in this picture we see flowers coming up and blossoming right through the snow.

These flowers, found in the mountain regions of the west, are called glacier-lilies. They are much like our common trout-lilies or adders' tongues and, like them, are bright yellow.

They blossom first in the low lands and follow the melting snow up the mountain sides, often even coming right up through it.

They continue blooming until early in September, and it sometimes happens that the flowers get covered up by the early snowfalls of the autumn. When this happens the flowers stay under the snow all winter, and when in the following summer it melts away there the flowers are just as if they had recently come out.

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS

Freckles—If freckles were a disease, or even a disfigurement, a cure would likely be found for them, but since they are the natural thing to have during the months when the sun is the strongest, no one should mind them. They are nature's protection for the skin and the health of the body, just as tanning is this same protection. They are due to color pigment acting like a sun shade to screen off the strongest days of the sun. When you bleach the coloring you lose the protection, and you must neutralize the natural secretions in the skin—while all the time new freckles will be forming—for the natural process will not be stopped.

The result will likely be a coarsened skin very much dried out from the acids or chemicals that would be needed to act upon the coloring and destroy it. The very fair skin that is usually of a fine texture must need the freckles to preserve it from injury, and to most people, freckles suggest health and the freshness that comes from living out in the sunshine, the wind, and water. Miss H. L. B.—Try tincture of green soap as a shampoo when your hair is very oily, and fine castle soap at all other times. It is possible that the mixture you are using now as a shampoo does not agree with your scalp. Do not try to lose more than five pounds a month, and you will be building up your health so you could not look unnatural.

Billy—To reduce a double chin, throw your head far back between your shoulders and go through all the motions of chewing until you have fully exercised all the muscles of the throat and chin.

For the lump at the back of the neck, you can massage it with your finger tips, which will act as an exercise does, and for a special exercise, place your arms out to the right and to the left on a level with the shoulders, bend elbows and bring forearms back and place finger tips on the edge of the shoulders, and then rotate the shoulders forward and back till all the muscles of the neck are fully exercised.

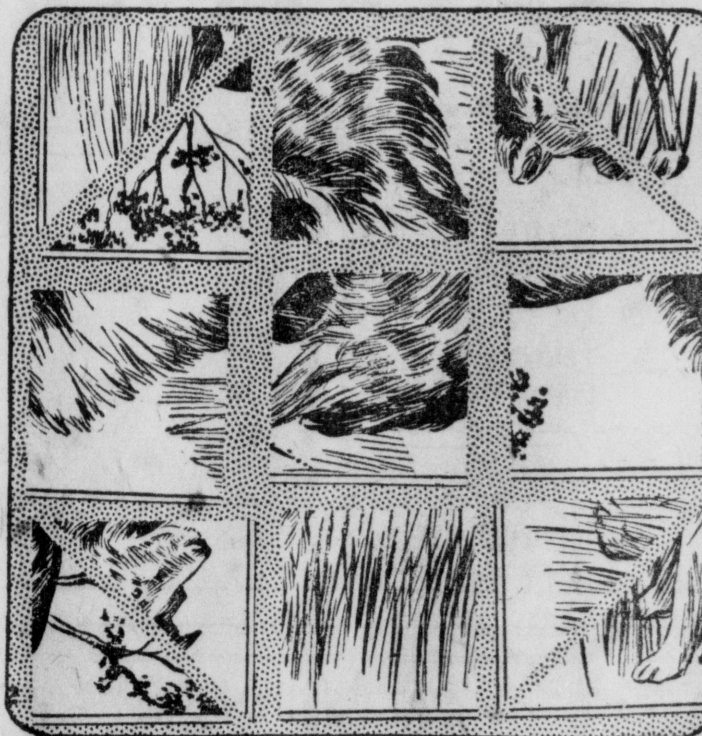

Apply very cold water or ice to the chin, throat, or even to the back of the neck after the exercises are over, as the chill contracts the pores and will make the skin firm so it will not have any tendency to sag after the fatty tissues have been absorbed.

A. A.—I do not think a condition of near-sightedness would cause puffiness under the eyes; usually this comes from the liver or kidneys. This would also account for the circles under the eyes. I think you should go to the doctor and get the right treatment for the trouble; anyway, you should be doing something to correct your nearsighted vision before it reacts upon your general health. OBSERVATIONS SHOWING VALUE OF EDUCATION ARE SET FORTH IN SCHOOL LEAGUE BULLETIN

Observations, tending to show that even from the standpoint of monetary consideration and financial advantages the business of going to school today not only is as important, but pays better in the long run, than getting a "job" for the sake of ready money, are set forth in a bulletin prepared by The Better Schools league and released by J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools.

In releasing this bulletin, Superintendent Cranston, a member of the league, expressed the hope that parents as well as the students concerned would give the matter their serious consideration. The bulletin is as follows: "The enthusiasm of school promotion is past. Removed from that occasion by a three-months period, parent and child face a new school year. There arises the alternative, back to school or get a 'job.' If the child is young, there is no choice; if older, and beyond compulsory attendance laws, then the question of returning to school is before them. Such considerations as additional income for the home; inclination and capabilities of the child; the general value placed on education; the accessibility of school privileges, on the one hand, and the cost of going away to school, on the other, and such items will be determining factors.

'Ready Money' Lure
"History might record many a story of the parting of chums. One goes to work; the other continues in school. One follows the lure of 'ready money'; the other the investment of time for future returns. The one has a set vision and uninspired hope; the other an enlarging horizon and increasing appreciation of service. The one may be held by the deadening influence of routine; the other moved by a desire for greater initiative, the satisfaction of independent thinking and the thrill of being creative. Their parting, based on similar hopes, may lead them poles apart.

"Every community boasts one or more large industries—factories for building citizenship. This business is somewhat seasonal, running at capacity usually from nine to 10 months in the year. Sometimes, unfortunately, operations are as low as four, five and six months. "With the beginning of the year come promotions in business. Similarly, with the beginning of the new school year, the schools pass around their opportunities for a higher grade of learning. In business there is a ceaseless evolution to produce men and women of training and experience for higher places of leadership in that business. It is so in the schools.

Added Earning Power
"With the promotion in business comes added earning power. Parents are not wanting to demonstrate the same results from increased school training. To quote Dr. Everett Lord, of Boston university, 'labor begins its activities at the age of 14 and arrives at its maximum earning power at 20. This average is $1200. From this point on it dwindles and falls below the point of self-support at 50 years. A high school graduate begins activities at the age of 18 and catches up with the laborer in seven years. At the age of 40 he has an earning power of $2200. The college graduate begins activities at the age of 22. In six years, or at 28 years of age, he equals the earning power of the high school graduate at 40. The average earning power of the college graduate at 60 is $6000."

"Parents owe it to their children to set a proper valuation on the advantages that adequate education bestows and to exercise care in the selection of the type of schooling that will best fit their needs. No effort should be encouraged to get away from the discipline resulting from work, but to get back to it. Idleness and misdirected energy are a menace to development. Education acquired at the expense of the will-to-work is superficial—a handicap. That schooling which is well-spiced with a liberal supply of toil as an avocation will prove the most effective.

"Let our boys and girls acquire their education in this environment and the business of life will take care of itself. They will be better citizens, more able workers and hold to more wholesome ideals."

H. B. SCOUT TROOP WINS FAIR AWARD

Troop No. 1, Huntington Beach, under the leadership of its scoutmaster, C. S. Elayer, came back after almost a year of inactivity and won the first prize with its exhibit at the county fair last week. The exhibit was awarded first place by the judges because it was considered the most complete in that it represented practically every type of fire in common use. It also had been completely arranged by the scouts, and every scout registered in the troop had something to do with its construction. Other troops awarded special banners for their exhibits were Anaheim No. 1, Santa Ana No. 10, and Garden Grove No. 1.

Scouts received much commendation from the fair management for the splendid way in which they helped as messengers and pages.

La Habra No. 1
C. W. Chamberlain has been selected as scoutmaster of La Habra No. 1, following the resignation of J. G. Jenks who has been serving the troop as scoutmaster during the last six months. Chamberlain is principal of the Lincoln school, and will do everything he can to bring the troop to a successful unit.

PRESIDENT OF POMONA BACK FROM EUROPE

CLAREMONT, Sept. 14.—After nearly a year spent in Europe, Dr. James Arnold Blaisdell, president of Pomona college and one of the leading educators in the west, has returned to Southern California, arriving at the Pomona college campus after spending several weeks in the east and middle west.

Dr. Blaisdell spent the year resting and studying European institutions in preparation for an extensive program of enlarged efficiency at Pomona college and particularly the establishment of Scripps college for women in relation to a proposed group of small institutions to be established at Claremont.

Plans for the building of Scripps college for women have progressed rapidly and construction on the first woman's dormitory will start this fall. While in Europe, President Blaisdell visited England, France, Italy, Switzerland, Spain and Belgium, studying well known institutions of learning in all of these countries and gathering material, which will be incorporated in plans for the development of the federated group of institutions.

In referring to the proposed program of development, President Blaisdell said that he was more convinced than ever that the general plan of a group of federated institutions, each of limited size, is in the interests of efficiency and economy. "The federated idea not only has vindicated itself in England and Wales, but it has been carried out in the English colonies all over the world. The situation in which Pomona college is placed, however, should produce a type of institution little resembling anything in the old world, although guided by all the experience of the past."

While in Geneva, Dr. Blaisdell attended a special meeting of the League of Nations and reports that he was most cordially received wherever he went, especially in France. Asked his impressions of Europe, he said, "On the whole I am hopeful about the revival of Europe."

In the absence of Dr. Blaisdell, Dean Ernest J. Jaqua served as acting president of Pomona college. President Blaisdell returns to his former duties and also will serve as head fellow of the Claremont colleges board. Dean Jaqua will act as dean of the faculty at Pomona college and will serve as director of the organization of Scripps college for the ensuing year.

START WORK ON NEW SEAL BEACH WELL

SEAL BEACH, Sept. 14.—Selover No. 1, the first well to be started in the Seal Beach district since the Marland Oil company brought in Bixby No. 2, the discovery well more than a month ago, spudded in on Sunday afternoon, and yesterday was drilling ahead at about 60 feet after having set a string of 24-inch conductor casing at 55 feet. This well is located west and south of Bixby No. 2 and is on the Selover McGrath property.

Two more wells probably will be drilling in the new field by the end of the week, one of them the Standard Oil company's San Gabriel No. 2, and the other the Marland's Bixby No. 3. Both of these wells are putting the finishing touches on their machinery, and are almost ready to spud in. The Marland will drill two wells on the Bixby property immediately, and began building derrick for Bixby No. 4 yesterday. The Standard is rigging up its San Gabriel No. 1 which should begin drilling shortly after No. 2 gets under way.

Bixby No. 2, the discovery well, made 1822 barrels yesterday, after averaging 1925 barrels all last week. The well is holding up in its new average daily output in good shape, making about 500,000 cubic feet of gas besides the oil.

Churches In Fullerton Form Council

FULLERTON, Sept. 14.—Members of six of the Protestant churches of Fullerton have perfected an organization known as the Young People's Council, which will meet every three months for union services. The churches represented were the Methodist, Christian, Episcopal, Baptist and Four Square.

Edmond Hoyer has been elected chairman of the organization. Representatives of each of the churches made short talks at the organization meeting, which was held at the Methodist recreational hall.

$25,000 OFFER TEMPTS SWIMMERS

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 14.—A try for the $25,000 prize which William Wrigley Jr., is dangling before the eyes of swimmers who would try the Catalina channel will be made by at least four representatives of the Orange county harbor district, it was reported on good authority.

Local swimmers are preparing for the grind in a methodical and scientific way. Trips are being made to Catalina Island and return while the prospective swimmers study currents and water temperatures and every precaution is being taken by the swimmer. The swimmers take daily plunges in the surf, swimming out as far as four miles and returning again to shore.

ENROLLMENT AT ANAHEIM SCHOOL JUMPS

ANAHEIM, Sept. 14.—Anaheim schools buzzed with activity yesterday after three months, when a throng of some 2000 children tramped back for the opening of the new fall term.

Enrollment figures so far completed reveal a marked increase in the number of high school students this year and a slight decrease in the number of grammar school pupils.

So far, 641 students have registered at the Anaheim union high school, as compared with 562 the opening day last year, an increase of 79. Principal J. A. Claves announced this morning. Further enrollments are expected during the week that will bring the total well up towards the 700 mark, Principal Claves said.

Enrollment at five of the grammar schools of the city this morning totaled 1353 as compared with 1415 at the opening day last year. Superintendent of Schools Melbourne A. Gauer reported this morning. The new La Palma street Mexican school does not open until October 11 and when it does open, at least a part of the present decrease shown is expected to be accounted for.

TUSTIN ENROLLMENT SHOWS INCREASE
TUSTIN, Sept. 14.—An increase of 15 students was recorded at the local grammar school yesterday over the opening day last year, according to a report from C. A. Weise, superintendent of the school.

The enrollment at the school was 451 and before the year is out, it is believed the school enrollment will reach 500.

Four new teachers are on the grammar school faculty this year. Miss Dorothy Brackman, formerly of Hemet, will teach English and will have charge of the sixth grade. Miss Elizabeth Wagner, formerly of San Diego, will be in charge of the fifth grade. Miss Myrtle Matlock, formerly of Beaumont, will teach the first grade children; Miss Ruth Anderson, formerly of Long Beach, will be in charge of the music department.

Other teachers who have returned to the class rooms at the school are Miss Ruth Taylor and Miss Mildred Morrow, kindergarten; Mrs. Viola Newell, first grade; Mrs. Edith Slusser, and Mrs. Edith Hurd, second grade; Miss Fannie Hasty and Mrs. Gladys Perozzi, third grade; Mrs. Myrtle Shallenberger and Mrs. Alice Gaylord, fourth grade; Miss Clara Enderle, fifth grade; Mrs. Eleanor R. Palmer and Miss Mary Durbin, seventh grade; Mrs. Ann Neal and Miss Lucie Royce, eighth grade; Miss Irene Catland, domestic science; George Gaylord, manual training and physical education; Miss Thelma Nordstrom, office secretary; Mrs. Gladys Caldwell, cafeteria; C. A. Weise, superintendent.

The domestic science classes will be conducted on the first floor of the grammar school building this year. Previously, the classes have been held in the basement in connection with the cafeteria. The school cafeteria opened today for the first time.

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Ora L. Schieber is the new principal of the grammar school. She arrived here from Missouri some days ago to assume charge of the school and pupils were quickly assigned to their rooms. Mrs. Schieber received her degree of bachelor of science from the State Teachers' college at Warrensburg, Mo., recently. She will continue her studies at the Berkeley summer school, where she intends to secure her M. A. degree. Mrs. Schieber will also teach the eighth grade. There are 215 pupils enrolled.

Other members of the faculty are Miss Myra Evans, second grade; Mrs. O. C. Hare, fifth and sixth; Miss Helena Dimock, first and second. There are two rooms of Spanish children, with Mrs. D. D. Campbell in charge of the third, fourth and fifth grades, while Miss Jessie McCoy will teach the first and second grades.

Mrs. Hare and Mrs. Campbell are new teachers for the school this year, although both are well known in Westminster circles, and they come highly recommended. Mrs. Campbell taught here some years ago and Mrs. Hare is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Larter, pioneer residents. Last year, she was employed at the Bolsa school, where she made a wonderful record in the primary room. Those concerned with school affairs were more than pleased when the school board, several months ago, announced the addition of these two members to the faculty.

Is Age Controlled By Glands?
Dr. Serge Voronoff of France, famous physician and surgeon, who has devoted years to research and experimentation with glandular treatment, says: "A man is worth only as much as his glands."

Dr. Arnold Lorand says in his book, "Old Age Deferred," in speaking of the glands: "We must insist upon the reinforcement of their functions if changed by age or disease by means of extracts obtained from the similar organs of healthy animals."

The new scientific formula—Glandogen—embodies this method. Glandogen is a highly concentrated gland compound in convenient, compact tablet form which combines the important extracts of the vital glands of healthy young animals with other efficacious ingredients. Hundreds of keen-eyed men and women are today taking Glandogen. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. C. S. Kelley Drug Store will supply you.—Adv.

FOUR NEW OIL DERRICKS ARE CONSTRUCTED IN NEW HUNTINGTON BEACH FIELD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Four new oil derricks were started in the western section of Huntington Beach the past few days, according to a report from the office of the city building inspector this morning. The four rigs brought the total number of derricks in the area to 83. Development in the section seems to have slowed down a little but despite the fact that not as many rigs are being erected now, interest in the district is still at a fever heat.

The Standard Oil company added to the excitement this morning by bringing in its first well in the district. The well is situated at the corner of Twenty-third street and Ocean avenue and is an offset to the Superior Oil company's Jones No. 1, the first well in the field.

The production of the new Standard well could not be learned.

With the constant development of wells in the western area, interest is centering on the possibility of oil existing in other portions of town and attention is called to the mass meeting which will be held in the city auditorium Sept. 24, when city trustees will endeavor to secure the true sentiment of the citizens in regard to raising oil restrictions in the entire town. Several petitions have been circulated about the town, some asking restrictions be raised from Seventeenth street to Eleventh street and others asking that drilling be allowed in the entire town.

A rich second zone is necessary if the new field in the west end of Huntington Beach is not to be a graveyard of rosy hopes. In the opinion of geologists who are carefully watching and analyzing the showings of the two-score wells now drilling in that area. The wells now producing in the top zone are showing a scanty output which, small as it is, is larger than subsequent producers in the upper zone can expect to get.

Fortunately, the prospects for better success in a deeper zone are generally regarded as good. Only one well has touched so far, but in that single instance it showed plenty of life, and the fact that the Standard's development on its B lease in the Barley Patch on the west end of the structure has resulted in several highly prolific wells in the second zone is taken as an indication that similar success may fairly be expected in the city field.

Miley has taken his Pacific Electric No. 1 well off production, and will drill it to the second zone, according to unofficial reports.

BAY FAVORED BY A. A. U. OFFICIALS

BALBOA, Sept. 14.—Following closely after the A. A. U. meet held here Saturday and Sunday, in which at least one Pacific coast record was broken and several others equalled, comes the announcement that officials of the Amateur Athletic Union of Southern California favor the selection of Newport bay for the holding of the International A. A. U. swimming meet next year.

Reports here today from several local athletic authorities who have had charge of the swimming and boating events held on the bay during the summer, are to the effect that A. A. U. officials have mentioned Newport bay very favorably when speaking of the international event.

The local representatives and city officials are making arrangements to bid for the international event. It is pointed out that the affair can be secured if an appropriation of approximately $4000 can be raised. Persons who are backing the project declare that the affair would be cheap advertising for the harbor district as well as for all of Orange county.

Rabbit Breeders of Orange County, and all interested in success of American convention show to be held in Anaheim in December, a meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A., Anaheim, Sept. 16th, 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of organizing committee. Everybody invited.

CHAMBER ACTS TO SECURE BOAT RACES FOR BAY

BALBOA, Sept. 14.—Steps to secure for Newport bay the national 151 hydroplane races for next year will be taken here Friday night at a special meeting of the finance committee of the Balboa Chamber of Commerce, it was announced today.

The finance committee will lay plans for an open meeting of the chamber of commerce, to which representatives from the city board of trustees and other civic organizations will be invited to join with the chamber of commerce in efforts to secure the national races.

The event was held in Florida last year and Dick Loyne, of Long Beach, ran away with all honors. Loyne is expected to lend his aid in securing the event for the Orange county port.

It is also understood that the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce have offered assistance to the project. Athletic and boating events on Newport bay during the past few months have made Newport harbor one of the leading pleasure spots in Southern California and nearby towns are rapidly coming to the support of the bay, it was declared today.

Fire District Is Planned at Grove
GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 14.—The regular monthly meeting of the Garden Grove Chamber of Commerce was held at the Garden Grove inn on Monday.

W. T. Lambert, president, presided over the meeting. The formation of a fire district was discussed and the following committee was appointed to go ahead and layout boundaries: J. G. Allen, chairman; C. S. Holt and C. C. Arrow-smith.

The boundaries of the fire district probably will follow the lines of the water district.

Hold Services For Poison Victim
ANAHEIM, Sept. 14.—Ptomaline poisoning, caused from eating tainted food, is blamed for the death of Mrs. Minnie Schulz, 54, of 508 East Sycamore street, who died suddenly Sunday. Four other members of the family suffered from poisoning but all have recovered, according to report this morning by the attending physician.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Backe-Terry and Campbell funeral parlors, the Rev. H. G. Schneider officiating. Burial was made in the Anaheim cemetery.

Mrs. Schulz was well known in and around Anaheim, where she had resided for the past 15 years following the profession of practical nurse. She was a member of the Zion Lutheran church.

G. P. Secures Water, Oil Well at H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—The General Petroleum corporation, operating on the Dabney property in the old section of the Huntington Beach field, has brought in the Dabney No. 3 well with an initial output of 65 barrels, of which about 20 barrels is water, and the remainder oil, according to unofficial reports. The well was completed at a depth of 3370 feet.

The matter of incorporation of Costa Mesa into a city of the sixth class was taken up several weeks ago at that time A. Slothower was appointed chairman of a permanent committee on the matter. Slothower and his committee reported last night that the step was an important one and should receive a great deal of consideration before action was taken.

According to Dodge, the chamber of commerce members intend to do considerable work during the coming months but it is expected that several months will elapse before any definite action can be taken in the matter.

The fire department committee of the chamber of commerce last night started proceedings to install four fire hydrants on Newport road in the business section of town. The street is to be widened and paved and it is the intention of the fire department committee to have the hydrants installed before the street is paved.

YOUTHS DRAW $50 FINES AT BEACH
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Arthur Lee, 21, of 4327 East Fifth street, Long Beach; Harold Mansfield, Long Beach, and T. P. Rogers, of this city, paid fines of $50 each to City Recorder C. W. Warner yesterday, after pleading guilty to charges of being intoxicated. A. Claret, 21, of Los Angeles, arrested Sunday with Mansfield and Lee, pleaded guilty to a similar charge but was unable to pay his fine and is still in jail.

BALBOA
BALBOA, Sept. 14.—Among the recent visitors at Balboa was Randolph Bothwell, of London, England. Bothwell, according to report, was pleased with Newport bay. Bothwell was one of a number of persons who registered at the chamber of commerce over the week-end.

Ray B. Beach, of Fullerton; Stanley R. Pratt, of Bakersfield; Roy W. Fredin, Mr. and Mrs. John McMullen and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mayfield, of Los Angeles, and Maurice Colburn, of Indianapolis, were others who registered Saturday and Sunday at the chamber headquarters.

EVENING SALUTATION

The strongest bond of human sympathy, outside of the family relation, should be the one uniting all working people of all nations and tongues and kindreds. Nor should this lead to a war upon property. Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich, shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built.

—Abraham Lincoln.

GET READY FOR AMENDMENTS

One of the most important duties before the voters of California is the study of 28 measures that are to appear on the November ballot either as constitutional amendments or as initiative or referendum measures. It is time for us to begin to go into detail concerning them. As has been its duty and its privilege, The Register will make a careful study of the proposals, and make its recommendations concerning them. We approach this matter with open minds. We are well enough acquainted with many of the measures to know now how we stand. Concerning others, we confess our ignorance, but, while confessing ignorance, we declare our intention of gathering information concerning them upon which to base our conclusions.

In the study of these measures, we invite correspondence and questions from the readers of The Register.

The 28 measures cover a wide variety of subjects. Among them are four tax exemption and two tax reduction measures. Three are bond measures, providing for issues of state bonds amounting to $8,500,000, $20,000,000 and $500,000,000, respectively. Two measures deal with state highway finance, two with reappointment of legislative districts and two with the powers of the courts, one aims to require the Bible in schools, another proposes a tax on oleomargarine, another would bring back race track gambling, and another would kill the Wright act. Some of the others are of lesser importance and some of them are tremendously important.

As a preliminary study of some of these measures beginning tomorrow on the editorial page, The Register will print portions of the minutes of the Commonwealth club, of San Francisco, which, at a recent meeting, received reports concerning the various measures.

THE STUDY OF SPANISH

We found ourselves interested in the announcement that the first class to be organized in Santa Ana this fall by the extension division of the University of California is to be a class in Spanish.

We were interested because we have been conscious for several years that among Orange county people there is a growing interest in Mexico. No small number of our residents are connected financially or otherwise with projects of various sorts well below the line. Mexico of the future offers untold opportunities in the development of mining and agriculture.

And when we refer to Orange county's interest in Mexico, we are not thinking of Tia Juana and Mexicali, which places, no doubt, get some, though a small proportion, of patronage from this section. Those places have a temporary leasehold on existence, and that is all. The early-closing of the border against them has already hit them heavily; it's likely that within five or six years they will be entirely out of business, if not by bans placed upon them by the United States, by legislation enacted by Mexico itself.

Our interest in Mexico is substantial. Many of the young men of today will have a part in the development of Mexico. To them, the study of Spanish is a practical study, in preparation for activities that may be theirs.

The growth of our local Mexican population presents another argument in favor of the study of this language. Anyone who farms or runs a store has a call for the use of Spanish.

PASSENGER SHIPS

If there is a slump in ocean freight traffic, there is none in the passenger traffic. It is heavier than ever, with promise of still greater crowds of seafaring tourists for next year. All the trans-Atlantic liners are jammed, with long lists waiting for passage.

Naturally this stimulates the construction of new liners, and larger ones. The White Star line is preparing to build the biggest ship in existence, displacing 62,000 tons, far greater than the Olympic and Leviathan. The French line is building another passenger ship, not so large as these but the largest under the French flag.

There is a lack of goods to carry overseas, as our Shipping Board will sadly confess. But there is no lack of people. Instead of merchandise moving abroad and bringing home money, we have people going abroad and spending money. The country can afford that—we are rich, and our export trade holds up pretty well—but it is sad to see the empty freighters.

SPAIN'S FUTILE PRIDE

Spain, refused a permanent seat on the Council of the League of Nations, withdraws from the League because her feelings are hurt.

Here is old-fashioned "Castilian pride" still alive and still operating, as it has done for centuries, to Spain's own disadvantage.

As matters stand, Spain's retirement hurts Spain more than it does the League. The latter gains prestige by keeping faith with Germany and refusing to be bulldozed into changing its policies by a member with whom there was really a good deal of sympathy. The welfare of the League was placed above favoritism and threats.

What it amounts to is that Spain has not "fired" the League, but the League has, however regretfully, fired Spain.

So Spain is left with her pride, and little else. And pride, in a man or a nation, is of little use when it is not accompanied by substantial strength or achievement.

It was really absurd that a nation which has lost the vast empire which was once Spain's, and dwindled in power until it was beaten to a standstill by a handful of Moroccans, should presume to dictate to a majority of the powers of the earth.

The Castilian nobleman, dwelling ragged in a tumble-down castle, and starving because he is too proud to work for a living, is still a symbol of Spain. That is why Spain fails to prosper and why, in spite of her great past, she fails to exert power in international councils, and even her Spanish-American offspring fail to support her.

"Of what use are ants in the economy of life?" inquires a philosopher. Well, for one thing, when they get into the food you know it's a picnic.

Cost of Carelessness

Long Beach Press-Telegram
One little thoughtless act may start a holocaust. A few nights ago a motorist traveling the coast highway between Santa Maria and Santa Barbara tossed a cigarette stub from the car. It dropped into a clump of dry grass at the roadside. A stiff breeze fanned it into a blaze. Another motorist following closely behind the unconscious firebug noticed the incipient flame and stopped for the purpose of extinguishing it. With his companion he worked feverishly and believed he had accomplished his aim, when a gust picked up some of the embers and deposited them in a tinder-like pile of leaves near a live oak tree. Almost instantly the whole tree was a mass of fire. A few hours later the conflagration was raging along an eighteen-mile front in the vicinity of Gaviota Pass, threatening an oil refinery and tanks near Alcatraz. Thousands of acres of timber, pasture and farm land were swept and much damage was done. All due to one man's carelessness.

This actual occurrence is typical of many incidents which every season make deep inroads into the material resources of the country and often times take a heavy toll of human life.

In forest losses alone, burning tobacco, neglected campfires, and other forms of mental lapses on the part of individuals or groups, are responsible for such damage that serious thought is given by the authorities to the proposal that the public be denied the privilege of access to the vacation ranges. Even if this could be done, it would not protect against such instances as that which made the Gaviota region a veritable inferno. Main highways cannot be closed to smokers, and a non-smoking regulation would be virtually impossible of enforcement.

The solution is greater care, more earnest and constant concern for the common interest. Every tourist or camper must constitute himself or herself a voluntary fire warden, who is ever on guard when danger threatens, as it does at all times during the dry months in California.

The Prohibition Wave

Redlands Facts
With wet sentiment still rushing in the east and dry sentiment still blowing from the south and west, each impatient of the other, it may be worth while to listen to a voice from a vantage point just about in the middle of the country.

According to William Allen White of Emporia, Kans., who has a sort of gift for detecting shifts and currents of national sentiment, the "rising tide against the Volstead Act" observable for the last three years seems to have reached its flood and shows signs of turning.

"For the last six weeks or two months," he says, "there has been no further gain. Now there seems to be a slight undercurrent and the tide is washing out. The Volstead Act and the Eighteenth Amendment are in the American statute books and in the American Constitution to stay. Tides will rise and fall, but in the end the people will see the wisdom of checking to the point of prohibition the sale of intoxicating liquors. The rich who want their highballs and cocktails will come to learn that they get their highballs and cocktails at the price of stable government. They value their property more than they value their highballs and cocktails. When it comes to their heads that property is threatened along with the Eighteenth Amendment and Volstead Act, it will be no longer fashionable to serve cocktails before dinner."

Doubling Yosemite Travel

Redlands Facts
The United Press thought it important enough to put a story over the wire that 2106 automobiles carrying 7420 persons, entered Yosemite valley for the Labor Day holiday. Which merely shows how seriously some of these resort places take themselves and on what slim bases their claims for state aid in road building are based. There were 3000 machines went up Mill Creek canyon, out of Redlands, and probably that was not 25 per cent of the traffic which went to Bear valley by the other routes. The writer of this when in the state senate was able to get the road via Waterman canyon into Big Bear declared a state road, although a good many of the state authorities complained of that action. Yet here it is accommodating twice as many cars as enter Yosemite, which has been a state road for years and has had the money poured out into it.

ADEQUATE LIGHT GIVES GOOD VISION
Nothing is so important for the production of good work at an efficient speed as good vision. Good vision is itself largely dependent on adequate lighting.

So important is this considered from the standpoint of economics and health that the British government, through its Medical Research Council, undertook a complete investigation of our present knowledge of the relation of illumination to the ability to see.

A study of a great deal of modern scientific literature reveals the fact that the character of the illumination has a most important relationship to the ability to see accurately.

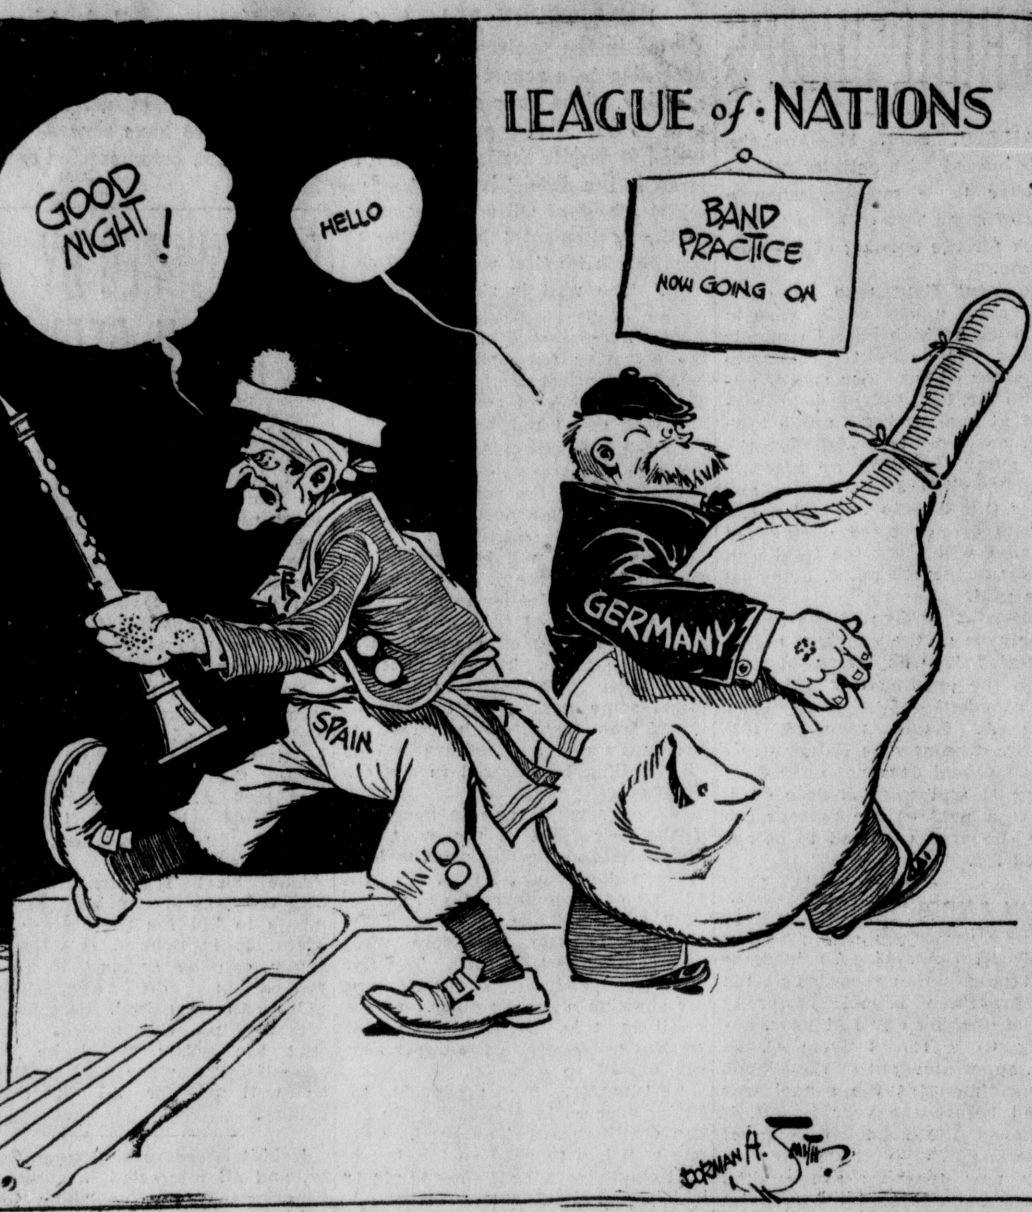

The shapes and the sizes of the objects studied and the ability of the eye to adapt itself to various degrees of illumination were also concerned. It was found that glare is a serious interference with good vision, and that preferably all sources of light should be at an angle of more than 30 degrees with the line of vision.

Moreover, lampshades, in order to be efficient, should have a considerable area. The disability produced by a frosted lamp is practically the same as that produced by a clear lamp of equal candlepower. When it is important to discriminate between various colors, the matter of artificial illumination becomes especially important.

Special studies have also been made of the relation of normal eyes as well as of those modified by various anatomical changes to the matter of vision. An eye with stigmatism requires longer for discrimination than does the normal eye with the same amount of illumination. One of the tests of the eye is to fix the gaze definitely on a certain object. With no illumination the eye becomes tired more rapidly than when the illumination is bright. This is only true, however, when glare is avoided by proper placing of lights and the use of suitable shading.

Tests have been made in various manufacturing organizations as to the amount of work performed by employees under various types of illumination, and it has been shown positively that increase in illumination under a well-designed system, with a minimum of glare and objectionable reflections, serves to increase the output of work by a considerable percentage.

A Little Change in the Concert of Nations

A Simple, Infallible Guide for Youth

Country Gentleman

In the gospel set down by the physician, Luke, is this wonderfully illuminating comment on the boyhood of Jesus:

And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man.

The centuries accumulating since have yielded no better guidance for youth. And it calls for no far or difficult departure from the natural human bent. A wise physician of this day, Dr. Richard Cabot, has written that long experience has taught him that four things go to make up a normal life—work, play, love and worship.

These are the materials out of which is built that fourfold development exemplified by the boy, Jesus, in this picture given by Luke. For, rightfully employed, work will implant increased wisdom; from healthful play will come increased stature; and love and worship, if they be in the spirit of the two great commandments, will bring favor with God and man.

Worth While Verse

LUCCOMBE DOWN

What did you lose on Luccombe Down
Where the feathery grass was swaying?
A droop of the lips and an anxious frown
And a mind too proud for praying;
A rancor little and mean and old,
A foolish dream that was dead and cold,
A stolen hope that was ill to hold,
And a heart that was bent and graying.

What did you find on Luccombe Down
Where the salt, sweet winds were blowing?
The gay red roofs of Wroxall town
And the smell of a new cut mowing;
A cliff of pearl and a sapphire sea,
A lambkin woolly and white and wee,
The depth of the heavens over me
And a thought that God is knowing.

—Amelia Josephine Burr in the Bookman.

Little Benny's Note Book

Me and Shorty Judge and Leroy Shooter and Sid Hunts quiet little cuzzin Joe was sitting on my front steps and we started to talk about who had the fattest person in their family, me saying, I bet you nobody's got any fatter Ant Lillian, all rite.

Wy, how fat is she? Sid Hunt sed, She's so fat she brakes chairs wen she sits down on them, thats how fat, I sed.

Then she aint as fat as my Ant Ida, because my Ant Ida cant get on a scale to way herself without spraining the scale, Sid sed.

Aw, what of it, that aint anything compared to how fat my Uncle Ed is, Leroy Shooter sed. I bet he dont sprain scales, Sid sed.

He certeny does, and besides that he cant get on a scale the regular way on account of his stummick being in the road, so he has to get on backwards and ask somebody going pass to read wat it says for him, Leroy sed.

Wats that compared to my Uncle Frank? Sid Hunts quiet little cuzzin Joe sed.

Wy? Wat about him? Wy? us fellows sed, and Joe sed, My Uncle Frank has to use 3 scales at the same time wen he wants to way himself, and he stands with one foot on one and the other foot on the other one, and once he went in the side show at a circus and the fat lady started to cry from jellissy, and she sed she would resign if they didnt make my Uncle Frank go out, so they put him out.

Being the best yet, and we got up a game of hop skotch.

OPTIMISTIC

There are plenty of ways you can get into trouble. You worry about it and make it seem double. Your mind plays around with what-e'er it's about, where it ought to be thinking of ways to get out.

How seldom we wonder how far we are getting, by wasting a lot of our good hours in fretting. A wee bit of action, in proper ways, brings the chance for a person to right the wrong things.

There ne'er was a man who has gained very much by fussin' and fumin' and sulkin' and such. When into the channel of worry he swerves he's just a poor mingler who gets on folks nerves.

Snap out of the trance, if you're one of that sort. Make faces at trouble, and be a good sport. The old optimistic game's never a flop. Try playing it, man, and you'll come out on top.

A Needless Toll

Kansas City Star

Every unnecessary death is a reflection upon the enterprise and intelligence of the community in which it occurs. In many ways the prevention of sickness and death is urgently required in this country; but in no one respect perhaps there is greater need of an awakening than in the case of mothers and infants. The national children's bureau again calls attention to the fact that the material mortality rates in the United States remain "among the highest in the civilized world."

They are more than double those of several countries of Europe, of Japan and Uruguay. The country has been only a slight decrease in these rates in America in the last 20 years, while in that period there have been notable advances in many other phases of health work and consequent reduction of death rates. And the death of mothers at the time of childbirth, it has been shown, is closely connected with a high infant mortality rate in the United States.

A thorough study of this question recently has been made for the children's bureau by Dr. Robert Morse Woodbury. Dr. Woodbury estimates that maternal deaths in the country annually amount to approximately 20,000. He shows also that about 100,000 infants die each year before they have reached the age of one month, and that "a very considerable proportion" of these deaths "have their origin in the care and condition of mothers during pregnancy and confinement." To be considered in the same connection is the estimated 100,000 stillbirths in the country annually. And the causes of all the deaths are to a large extent preventable. The country is making an annual and unnecessary sacrifice of thousands of mothers and children. The means of reducing the human toll are known. They have been employed in other countries and, to a limited extent, in the United States. New York City, for example, reduced its maternal mortality rate nearly one-half in 20 years. That city now has one of the lowest rates in the country, but it is still considerably higher than those in the several countries of Europe and elsewhere. The way to prevention of death both of mothers and infants, Dr. Woodbury explains, lies through effective supervision of hospitals and other health agencies, of physicians, midwives and nurses; through compulsory reporting and public control of puerperal septicemia, an infection which is common cause of maternal mortality; control, in part through legislation, of the social diseases; better training of medical and nursing personnel, and better clinics, hospitals and maternity homes.

No state or community, however, needs to wait for the assistance of some other agency. Properly, the work which has been attempted under the federal act belongs to the states. There should be no shifting of responsibility in a matter of this nature. The expense of the needed protection of human life is not a primary consideration. It is relatively small when the benefits are accurately measured.

California Happy

San Francisco Chronicle

Historically California is a mere strippling. It was not admitted into the Union until 74 years after the 13 original colonies had brought forth on this continent a new nation. And men still living were present at its birth—just 76 years ago. Not so very old as years go is California, yet it is Oregon's big brother by nine years, is 39 years Washington's senior and has 62 years the best of Arizona and New Mexico.

But in all other respects California has ceased to be a strippling. And after it has been recalled that it was the thirty-first state to enter the Union a new adjustment of its relation to these other commonwealths must be made, based on its growth in population, the development of its material resources, its per capita wealth and its domestic and foreign trade. Viewed in this guise, it is no longer a strippling but deserves a place in the very front rank of the states of the union.

It is a far cry indeed from the little community of 92,597 persons over whom Peter H. Burnett was called to preside as first Governor of California in 1850 to the present thriving state which the census bureau estimates now contains 4,316,459 persons, but which the census bureau estimates at home claim exceeds 5,000,000. But some idea of the record California has made in population growth may be gleaned from the fact that at its entrance into the union the state stood twenty-ninth in the list of states by population and has since moved into seventh place, Michigan topping it, according to the estimates, by not more than 100 persons.

The state has grown in wealth as well as in numbers. Its per capita wealth now measuring over $4000, or nearly double the national average, placing it fourth among the states, with only Nevada, Wyoming and South Dakota, exceeding. In wealth, indeed, we have grown faster than in population, rapid as growth, it is a delightful place to live in.

The advent of California's birthday may not mark any abrupt or important change from what has been. Yet so far as it is possible for fallible men to read the future, the survey suggested by the state's anniversary is full of hope. All the predictions are for more prosperity even more unbounded than what has gone before. Nor is this optimistic view of the state's continued well-being but the kindly promptings of the hearts of men willing to say something pleasant on a birthday occasion. There is plenty of outside warrants to support the cheerful view. And if there are some, where some who are irked by the residents, it must be because they do not know California. They should come and study us at closer range. We should be happy indeed to have them at our next birthday party.

"city planning" has been developed from the Boards of Commerce of communities who wanted to make their towns better places to live in.

THEREFORE, INSTEAD OF FEELING TOO SUPERIOR TO HELP THE MEN WHO ARE HELPING YOUR COMMUNITY, YOU MIGHT FAR BETTER GET OUT AND SPEND TIME AND MONEY TO BACK THEM UP. (Copyright 1926)
